

The reasonable man adapts himself to the world: the unreasonable one persists in trying to adapt the world to himself. Therefore all progress depends on the unreasonable man.

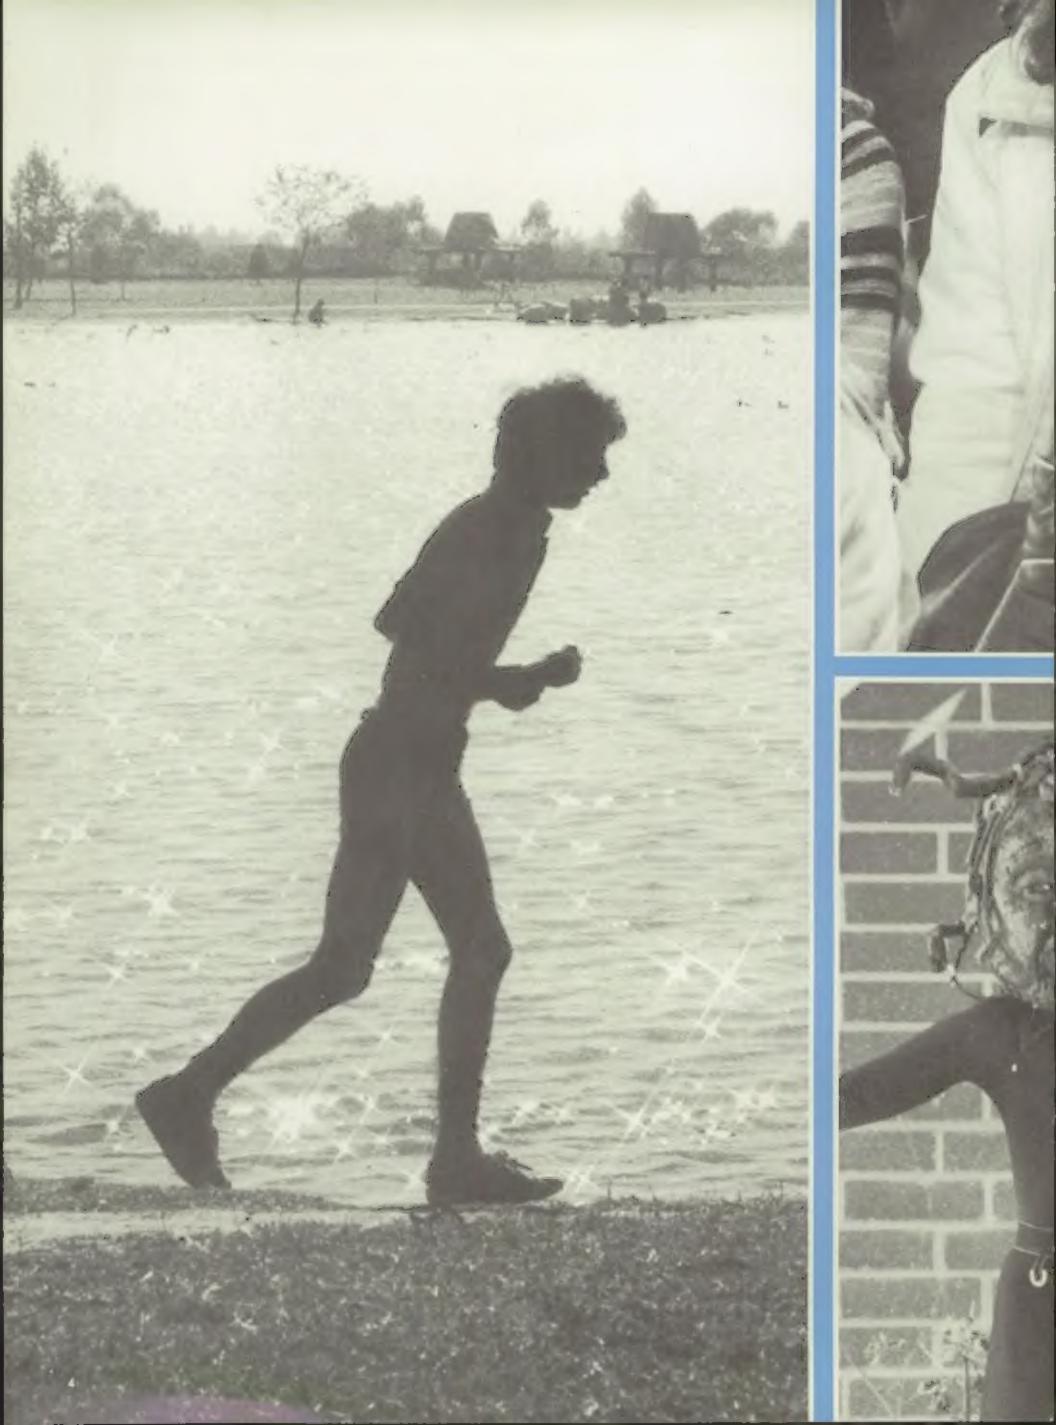

George Bernard Shaw

Time is an intangible thing. It slips by us so quickly without our taking heed of it, that we many times don't notice it or use it as wisely as we should. But with our moving into a new decade, perhaps NOW is the time to stop and take a look at what's happened in the last ten years so that we can better adjust to this new era before us. The eighties are upon us and as we progress into them, we must be prepared to handle all the responsibilities which we'll undoubtedly be given. Before we act, we must think. Before progress can be achieved, we must be aware of what led up to it, why we are at this point, and what options are open to us.

1980: Sometimes it sounds like a date out of a science fiction book; it's difficult to realize that it's actually the present. We are the guinea pigs who get to break in this new decade. The avenues open to us are multitudinous — we have so much available that the difficulty we may face may not he in the actual work before us, but making a choice of which street to take.

"Steaty the past if you will divide the future." A wise man he knew that much can be learned from past experiences. As we have on we should stop for a moment and look at the events that ed as to mis.

point. We should examine today's trends and philosophies and with crieful scruting compare them with those of the last ten years. I rom this then, perhaps we can better understand the "whys" of todays existence

With a dizzying pace, society turns its progress in cycles. What was popular then will undoubtly repeat somewhere in the future, as will today's happenings return in another form or shape after they fade into the horizon. If we keep on a steady course, making ourselves aware of events both now and then, the acquisition of that pot of gold at the end of our rainbow can more easily become a reality.

Robinson Jeffers, "The future is ever a misted landscape, but at cyclical turns there is a change felt in the rhythm of events as when an exhausted horse falters and recovers, then the rhythm of the running hoofbeats is altered, he will run we use these sights wisely.

To paraphrase the poet miles yet, but he must fall. We have felt it again in our lifetime slip, shift, and speed up in the gallop of the world." In our own time we need to use past wisdom toward improving our future. True and beneficial progress can be achieved if

Bands Light Up Our Lunches

This year, to cut down on district spending and keep the trash level down to a minimum, snack period was eliminated. So, to make up for the great loss, the Activities Director arranged to have some fine bands perform in the bowl during lunch. Bands such as "Marbles", "Climax", and "Legacy" entertained the students who patronized the cafeteria at "Baron Manor", and livened up lunch quite a bit. Also, the bands not only helped to break up the monotonous schedule (many students going 5 periods straight before a break), but also gave students great music to chew by!! Encore, encore! "Ampage."

October Was a Month of Spirits

October 15, 1979, Fountain Valley High School: "Come one, come all! Get into the spirit of Spirit Week! Swallow licorice strings whole. Guzzle root beer. Get a banana cream pie in the face! It's fun! It's exciting! And most of all, it's the best way of showing that you — yes, you! — have Spirit!" And that's exactly what Fountain Valley students did for an entire week preceding the Homecoming dance and game. None got sick, but all got psyched, and many students who usually leave before lunchtime stayed on to watch the crazy antics in the bow!

This year, because of the new, single, forty minute lunch period. Spirit Week Committee had extra time for putting together the lunchtime activities. They had many of the same traditional games, such as the balloon toss, the licorice eating contest, and the root beer drinking contest, and the week was highlighted by the hilamous pie-in-the-face contest where our wonderful Activities director, Mr. Bob Ferguson, got what he asked for . . . Banana cream — a la face! All in all, it was a great week for "getting into the spirit"

The eve of October 19 was rainy and cold but that didn't stop the 1979 Homecoming Court from making a shining appearance at Shue Field for the Homecoming game. The storm let up just long enough for the ten King and Queen hopefuls to be paraded around the Football field in sparkling, eadillac convertibles decorated in the school's colors. Once again, the Half-time committee put on an entertaining presentation, depicting this year's theme — Reminiscing

Beth Lunetta was crowned the new Homecoming Queen and as last year, the Homecoming King could not be present. So Keith Marshall, the newly elected, had his mother accept his crown for him. "Saturday night, it was eight" and couples were dancing away at the Mission Vielo Country Club to the sounds of "High Energy." The club possessed an old-fashioned, rustic atmosphere that invited couples to "go strolling through the park and walking in the dark" about the beautiful grounds surrounding the club, and then sit and warm themselves by a blazing fire. Later, the Queen and Kine and their court danced to the theme song "Reminiscing"

King and Queen Reign in Rain

Homecoming festivities are the most traditional events of the year. Each year, the decision of which boy and which girl will attain the honor of being Homecoming King and Queen is Jecided in the course of three elections First, an interviewing committee decides on ten boys and ten girls. The students then vote for a total of twelve semi-finalists. Two weeks later, students vote again for the King and Queen. This year at a rainy halftime on October 19, the student body chose Keith Marshall and Beth Lunetta to be King and Queen. Their court included Princesses Karen Coppens, Cheri Decker, Rosie Dunnigan, Patrice Harry, and Princes Chris Cowan Monte Fitch, Mark Cisco, and Drake Turner. Rivalry Causes a Blue Meanie Invasion

It was a cool day in September when the word had finally gotten out . "FVHS has been invaded!" Panic began to arise! Then it was asked, "Invaded by what?" The answer was Blue Meanies!!! Blue Meanies could be seen everywhere from the fronts of Freshmen to the chest of our beloved Principal. What were these things? A rare rash of aliens? A dreaded disease? No, just a clever school-wide spirit promoter initiated by Student Government. Probably one of the most popular activities, everyone purchased a Blue Meanie T-shirt for only $3.50 and wore it on Fridays, at Pep Assemblies, and at football games. Posters advertised and warned us about the invasion. and soon after the takeover was complete. Blue Meanies filled the F.V. Campus with enthusiasm and spirit

The entire week before the great battle. players and students altke were psyched and encouraged for the night of the game at the Big "A" Stadium Pepsters and Student Government members worked hard at painting and posting banners promoting things like, "Kick Edison in the Big A", or "Barons do it better", and "We did it before. we'll do it again!" Even a gigantic banner was hung high up on the gymnasium, letting the entire area surrounding the school know of "the fight for the Bell." This year, Fountain Valley and Edison High Schools' bands teamed up and put together a spectacular performance for crowds at halftime. and once again we had a game attendance of over 15,000. Players fought, pepsters cheered, and students rooted during our most exciting time of the year at the Anaheim Stadium.

Not a Dull Moment in Students' Leisure Time

Contrary to popular behef, students do more than just study or sit in front of the television set for hours on end. The city of Fountain Valley provides many fun and interesting activities for students to enjoy. One of the most popular, is the Malibu Grand Prix. Boys, in particular, like to go and test their skills on the curving course of the track. Their goal in mind is to set an all-time record in driving the track in as little time as possible. Fountain Valley's Drive-in, showing all the latest flicks, attracted many steady couples and daters to enjoy each other's company in the confined privacy of a vehicle. Naugles, Carl's, and MacDonald's were favorite after-date places to catch a late night snack. Roller Skating in Newport and Balboa has become a favorite pastime of Fountain Valley students as have the traditional "Beach Parties". And, of course, there is the ever-popular "cruisin"!" One thing's for sure, though, Fountain Valley's students and their basic attitudes haven't seemed to have changed much over the years, and probably won't for years to come

Competition is becoming more and more popular every year. The media today covers all kinds of events ranging from beauty contests to sports events. One of the more successfully popular competitions to arise in the last few years is that of the Superstars Competitions. Although Fountain Valley does not employ movie stars or famous athletes, it does employ some very agile and fun-loving faculty who once again battled one another in an exciting race for Superstardom. The events for this year's contest included such exhilarating tasks as throwing darts, tossing horse shoes, passing footballs, shooting pool, playing miniature golf, and much more. Faculty members scored points for each event and total points were displayed on a bulletin board located in the main office. Top scorers received awards at the final banquet held in the spring

Spirit Shines Year-Round at F.V.

Fountain Valley High School's spirit was not confined to an occasional pepassembly. Various types of spirit could be seen on a typical day at school. Worn on many shirts, one could find a "Blue Meanie," a Mr. Bill pin, or one of the various types of flowers sold throughout the year. The bowl came alive during lunch with a variety of entertainment ranging from pep rallies and rock bands to Santa Claus at Christmas time. Different organizations on campus sponsored different spirited activities; for example, new this year were "Blue Meanies" used as the school's mascot during Edison Week. The annual Fountain Valley-Edison breakfast brought students from each of the rival schools together before the big game. In October came the annual Homecoming Game and Spirit Week, Student Government sponsored contests and activities that were planned for each day of the week Spontaneous events also took place as the band marched through school. Balloons, cotton candy, and "Do It Again" buttons were sold. Spirit Week ended with the homecoming elections and dance. In December, the school was blessed with a visit from Santa Claus during Holiday Week and bands once again rocked the bowl. Pepster initiation took place in March after freshman, sophomore, and junior girls fulfilled their dreams by becoming cheerleaders. The new pepsters were dressed as punkers, hobos, little girls, and housewives. Easter and Valentine Suckers were sold and delivered to friends and lovers. The ski club sold multi-colored candy cones for those students with a sweet tooth. The girls asked their favorite guy to the Spring Fling dance and the Prom was once again a big event for seniors and juniors. The activities that shaped our school spirit, supported the students and the events which took place throughout the year

Punk Rock Becomes Latest Craze

"You think this attitude of nine won't last, my later life wil be religious pap. Not everyone just burns out, responsibilities are just dead end, and you resent what I do."

Question What has two legs, worships Sid Victoris, and wears black and white striped leather pants, time green tennis shoes and a bicycle lock?

Answer A Punk Rock fan New light has been shed on the word "Punk" It's the latest thing in music, clothes, magazines and atatudes. Attitude is defined as a manner of showing one's feel ings, thoughts, disposition and opinions It's normal and healthy. Finding vourself is part of growing up. This new individ ual trend of "Punk" has affected quite a bit of our society. Music was probably the first to feet the drastic changes that Pank provoked. Many tuned their radios o Punk rock, and hearing it. urned up their noses and kept uning But soon, groups like 'Devo," "the Talking Heads," ind the "B-52's," hecame Attemely popular. As these troups gained notoriets with the general public, they lost popular its with the Panks, and for good reason Punk Rock followers tend to shun the "in" thing They feel that if it's not "totally outrageous" and completely "off the wall," it doesn't represent them, Generally amid the Punk crowd. were groups like the "Crowd," "the Simpletons." "the Gears," and "the Dills" which entertained I.A's crowd. And the "Dead Kennedys" entertained Punks in the Frisco area. Clothes effectively exhibited the shock of Punk. It had to be the craziest. the weirdest, the most unusual and sometimes even the ugliest thing they could possibly find to z p up slide into, button down, or otherwise den. Lime green. leopard skin, black leather, and red silk were the style of the Punks David Bowie may have had some influence on the way the Punks were their hair, but chances are Johnny Rotten had a lot more to do with it Cropped short, dved pink, and blown dry into the latest style, it was like wearing a giant sign explaining their entire outlook and viduality. Publication companies got into gear and started putting out

Punk magazines, featuring the latest in music, clothes, and fads Coming from al. over the nation, magazines such as "Slash," "Mouth of the Rat," "Lobotomey," and "Flippeside" became widely known among Punkers Station KROO initiated a Punk music show which was broadcast every Saturday and Sunday night from 8 to 12PM. Combat boots, trenchcoats, chains, safety pins, velvet gloves, swastikas tight leather pants and bicycle locks are all_individually insignificant. But combined, they, along with many other things symbolize and signify the essence of Punk. It really does stand for a lot more than people realize, "Ipso Facto," it's not all violence, or obscenity, or vulgarity. It is simply exercising the right to say what you like, do what you please, and be the way you want to be ... yourself

".. and thinking my way is just an escape Staying drunk is a typical condition Spending money whenever I have it tell me to grow up—it's useless, age borders more to this feeling—"

Praise and Recognition for FVHS Art Students

This page is dedicated to the recognition and praise of the many talented but virtually unnoticed Art students attending FVHS. Whether they were into poetry, painting, ceramics or sketching, all have exceptional abilities which add a touch of culture and give the students something beautiful to enjoy now and for years to come. A lot of time and energy goes into every piece of work done. A good artist puts a lot of himself into his creations. Plaster art, line-ink art and stain glass window making are probably the newest forms of arts and crafts taught at the High School. Here, on this page, are a few pieces of work which have been selected by the Art Department Coordinators, and sent in by students at FV

Magic and Mystery Found in Spring Production of "Pippin"

"Pippin" is probably the most unique type of musical production the performing arts department has ever presented. Pippin was played by Steve Lenzkes, and the story tells of Pippin's search for fulfillment and identity. The play, a musical comedy, was directed by Mrs. Cooney and a lot of time and attention went into the choreography of the show. Head choreographer was Roy Diaz, and some of the more prominent dancers included Jody Israelsky

Alison Rustvolt, Leanne Corboy, and Lori Jones. The feats of magic which were seen throughout the play were created by our very own Magic Club advisor Mr. Mittelman. Other faculty involved in performing included Ms. McGough who played the part of Berthe. All in all, "Pippin" was a "magical" sight to see and all who attended definitely enjoyed it

Camp Osceola Welcomes FV Students

Forty-two students with a wide variety of backgrounds, accompanied by fifteen staff members, set off for a very special experience last December four days at Camp Osceola. Under the direction and careful planning of Carey Baker and Sal Cracchiola these students attended the eighth successful FVHS camping experience in the San Bernadino Mountains Students left early Friday morning anxious and eager to spend four days away from home and school. A typical day in the wilderness included daytime activities such as hiking, gathering mistletoe, competing in games, writing in journals, and, of course, lots of eating. Evenings included a visit from a folk singting duo, animal calling contests, skits by each cabin group, and enjoyable fireside chats. Good times were had, good friends were made and fond memories were created for the entire group

Valentine's Dance Upholds the Sweetest Tradition

"Precious and few are the moments we two can share, quiet and blue like the sky I'm hung over you ..." These beautiful words were the theme for a beautiful dance which took place on the evening of February second. The Anaheim Convention Center was the setting, and couples arrived for an evening of dancing and romancing. The room was decorated lightly in pinks and reds, and flower arrangements were placed throughout the entire room to give it a soft, spring-like atmosphere. To the excellent and versatile sounds of "Arch-Angel," couples danced fast and slow, and at ten o'clock all Valentine Court hopefuls crossed their fingers as the winners were announced. Carol Nealy was named Valentine Queen, while Steve Victorino was chosen as King. Other Court members included Junior Prince Danny Carr and Princess Irene Mendoza, Sophomore Prince Torry Conway and Princess Kathy Estes, Freshman Prince Brett Waterman and Princess Judy Armstrong. At the end of the evening, everyone received tiny cupidclad keepsakes and all left with happy memories of an enjoyable evening Under the organization and direction of Pam Halpern, the 1979-1980 Girls League put on an excellent dance

FV Loves a Hoe-Down!

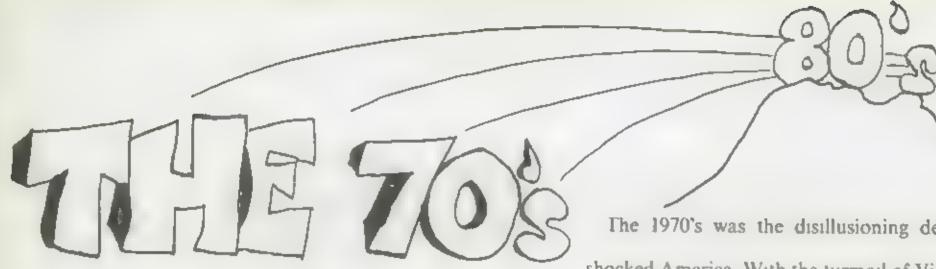

It was a knee-slappin', hip-swingin', rip-roarin' time on the night of January 26th at the Sadie Hawkins dance. Yes, it was that fun time again when the girls ran for the guys and the guys ran through crazy antics. Once again the FVHS Gymnasium played the part of the "Big Red Barn," and the boys, led by the girls, were obliged to be taken on a hay-ride, have their pictures taken, be kissed in front of a huge crowd, and finally be married, willingly or unwillingly, along with a half a dozen other crazy couples. Music was provided by "Rise 'N Shine." Strolling about throughout the entire dance was our own "Live Oak" hillbilly band that also helped in setting the country mood. Thanks went to Bill Lacey and John Boyberg and the entire Senior Commission, who worked hard in putting it all together.

Dawning of a New Decade
... Ten Years in Review

The 1970's was the disillusioning decade that shocked America. With the turmoil of Vietnam, the Kent State Massacre, Charles Manson's trial, Watergate, equal rights, the declining dollar, and the Crisis in Iran, Americans lost faith in society and the Nation. This loss in faith influenced people's thoughts pertaining to their lives, causing individuals to turn to themselves, which classified the 70's to be the "Me" decade. Review the progress and changes which in turn affected our lives.

In 1970, the Vietnam war caused a series of events to occur. Richard Nixon said that "Vietnamization" would bring our soldiers back to us. College campuses held many kinds of strikes and demonstrations and at Kent State University in Ohio, a protest rally got out of hand and guardsmen killed 4 students and wounded 10 others. Hordes of hippies roamed the land with their quest to be free and women started demanding equality. Muhammad Alı, after 43 months of restriction from the ring. came back to beat Jerry Quarry. Some Palestinians skyjacked three jets and forced them to land in the Jordanian desert, while holding the hostages and blowing up the planes. TV entertainment was the all new Monday Night Football with Don Meredith and some popular movies were "Little Big Man,"

"Catch-22," "Patton," and "MASH."

The spirit of war was still in the air and at a protest march 13,400 people were arrested, many of them tear gassed. Charles Manson and family were on trial along with Lt. William Calley, who was convicted of mass murder in My Lai. At the Attica penitentiary, the bloodiest event in prison history took place leaving 39 inmates and 9 hostages dead. In the Los Angeles area, a huge earthquake killed 62 people and injured 1,000 others. Gay Liberation exposed themselves to the public, demanding equal rights. Archie Bunker was born and popular movies were "Klute," "The Last Picture Show." and "Carnal Knowledge."

1972

A national scandal took place on the eve of June

17th when 5 men broke into the Watergate building. This event was connected to President Nixon and the CIA. Nixon became the President for his second term, and after 20 years of hatred, was welcomed into China. George Wallace was shot by Arthur Bremer in the presidential campaign. The Senate approved the equal rights amendment. In the Munich olympics Palestinians kidnapped and killed the Israeli wrestling team, and Mark Spitz went on to win 7 gold medals. Popular movies were "The Godfather," and "Cabaret."

The Watergate trial was taking place and the famous Nixon tapes were revealed, one with an 18 minute gap. Vice-President Spiro Agnew resigned and was replaced by Gerald Ford. The Arabian Oil Embargo forced Americans into short supplies.

Secretariat won the Triple Crown, for the first time in 25 years. Popular movies were "The Sting," "The Exorcist" and "American Graffiti."

President Nixon resigned from office before being impeached and Gerald Ford became the new president. Henry Kissinger was accused, in 1974, of bugging his national security aids 3 years previously. The economy suffered the worst recession in 40 years and many people were preparing their families for a depression. Patti Hearst was kidnapped from her apartment by the Symbionese Liberation Army, which she soon became a member of James Morris, a British author, through a series of operations, became Miss Jan Morris. Tennis became a highly recognized and very popular sport along with streaking. Evel Knievel tried but failed to jump the Snake River Canyon. Muhammad Ali once again became the Heavyweight champ after fighting George Foreman. The popular movies of 1974 were "Chinatown," and "The Great Gatsby."

H. R. Haldeman, John Ehrlichman. John Mitchell and Robert Mardian were convicted of "complicity in the cover-up" of Watergate. Congress refused aid to Cambodia and in return the Khmer Rouge regime seized the American merchant ship Mayaguez. Squeaky Fromme and Sara Jane Moore attempted to assassinate Gerald Ford but all to no avail. "The Right to Life" slogan came into existence. A bomb went off in the terminal of La Guardia Airport in New York killing 11 people. "A Chorus Line" brought new entertainment and ballet became popular. Movies that highlighted the year were "Dog Day Afternoon," "Jaws," and "Monty Python and the Holy Grail."

This was the year that America celebrated her 200th birthday. Jimmy Carter won the presidential election nudging Gerald Ford out of the White House. Patti Hearst was convicted on burglary charges. Karen Ann Quinlan was allowed to die after her parents were given permission to pull the life supporting plugs that were keeping her alive The Viking I flew to Mars and took pictures of the "Red Planet." Skateboards, C.B. Radios and Mary Hartman swept the country. Popular movies were "Taxi Driver," and "Rocky."

his treasures, which attracted people of all ages. Mopeds were another attraction, which were used by young and old as either an inexpensive means of transportation or merely a fun way to travel. President Carter ceased the building of the B-1 bomber prefering cruise missiles instead. The worst air disaster in aviation history occurred when a KLM 747 collided with a Pan American jumbo jet on a runway on the Tenerife Island. 577 people were killed. Shoplifters' dreams came true when a blackout struck New York City. David Berkowitz (alias Son of Sam) was on the loose killing couples in their parked cars at night. Gary Gilmore (on his own request) was the first man to be executed in 10 years. He went before a firing squad in Utah. Genealogy became a passing fancy when Alex Haley wrote his "Roots." David Frost held an interview with Richard Nixon, which was his first television appearance since his resignation. Popular movies were "Star Wars," "Saturday Night Fever," "Annie Hall" and "Close Encounters of the Third Kind."

People's Temple leader Jim Jones ordered all of his followers to death by having them drink Kool-Aid containing cyanide. Other followers that tried to escape were shot. 914 people died. Jimmy Carter, Anwar Sadat and Menachem Begin hammered out the Camp David accords. The Senate ratified the Panama Canal treaties and Carter postponed the building of the neutron bomb. California voters followed Howard Jarvis and his Proposition 13 which cut 7 billion dollars in property taxes. In came the "boat people" who were fleeing from a Communist government. Many of them died at sea. Pope Paul VI died and was replaced by Pope John Paul, who also died 34 days later. Pope John Paul II replaced him being the first non-Italian Pope in 455 years. The test tube baby, Louise Brown was born. She was the first child ever conceived outside of her mother's body. College toga parties were established after the movie "Animal House," and girls were wearing transparent pants. Other popular movies were "The Deer Hunter," "Interiors" and "Coming Home."

The Shah of Iran left his empire and Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini took over proclaiming an Islamic republic. The U.S. embassy in Iran was claiming their release only if the U.S. would send the Shah back to Iran. The Pope visited Mexico and the U.S. stopping by at the White House. United Nations ambassador Andrew Young resigned after lying about his secret contact with the Palestinian Liberation Organization. Radio-active steam escaped from the Three Mile Island causing the worst commercial nuclear accident in history and life sprang to the anti-nuke movement. The price of gold skyrocketed but the dollar continued to decline. The U.S. fell in love with the sensuous Miss Piggy and her fellow muppets. Popular movies were "Apocalypse Now," "Manhattan" and "The China Syndrome."

1980

The Crisis in Iran continued, leaving the American hostages isolated in the U.S. Embassy. Russian troops invaded Afghanistan in hopes of taking over the oil control in the Persian Gulf. Because of the Russian invasion, President Carter placed a boycott on the summer olympics that were to be held in Moscow. The winter olympics in Lake Placid proved to be rewarding for the U.S. as speed skater Eric Heiden won 5 individual gold medals and the underdog U.S. hockey team won a team gold medal. An amateur boxing team was killed in a plane crash in Poland. Ronald Reagan, Jimmy Carter, and Ted Kennedy were battling it out as top contenders in the Presidential election.

Many changes have taken place in this decade as shown on these few pages. A glance back on the events of this time will perhaps give us insight to what the future has in store.

The seventies, the decade of self-expression, not only by word of mouth but also by means of bodywear, got a message: Get a t-shirt!

All across America, people wore their feelings, expressions and slogans on their chests, sometimes to get them off their chest.

It seemed as though every day a new event would occur, causing a new t-shirt to appear in every store window or on everybody. Here are some of the more popular t-shirts of the last decade broken up into three categories:

In the early seventies, 1970-73, the t-shirt was born and everyone had to have at least one. These t-shirts were primarily single word expressions such as: "Love," "Peace," "Vote," "Oui," and "Have a nice day"

In the midseventies, 1974-76, t-shirts grew in words. Now slogans, events, and phrases could be found. "Bicentennial America, 1776-1976, 200 years," "Ban guns," "Say good-bye Dick (Nixon)," "I Love NY," "Support your local police," "nuclear energy: clean, safe, abundant," "God bless America

it's great to be an American."

T-shirts made it not only to the end of the decade, but also retained their popularity. Similar to the mid-seventies, the t-shirts worn in the late seventies expressed thoughts, and slogans: "Your place or mine?", "Save the whale," "Anita Bryant's husband is a Homosapiens," "Smokers have better butts," "Skylab missed me, July 11, 1979," "Oh no Mr. Bill," "Ratify ERA" "I got a peek at the Pope, Chicago '79," "Black-out,"

Other t-shirts were popular throughout the decade; for example, rock groups, movies, stars and even a picture of yourself could be found on many chests.

In the seventies, the t-shirt not only evoked an expression, but was also used in a popular contest — "Wet t-shirt Contests." In this contest a basic white t-shirt was sufficient and worn by all members of the contest.

Because a t-shirt is simplistic, it will continue to survive and gain recognition in the eighties.

Early in the decade, innovations of the 1960's were still in practice. Students were doing "new math" and learning concepts that baffled the minds of their parents. A less structured system was employed, allowing the students to work at their own paces.

Later in the '70's, it was discovered that these concepts would not work. Parents pressed for a "back to basics" curriculum. Reading, Writing and Arithmetic were stressed. The number of credits required for graduation was raised. Discipline was strengthened. The attendance system was tightened, making it harder for a student to skip classes. Detentions were given for tardies as well as truancies. Many of these policies were around early in the '70's but they weren't always enforced to the extent that they are now.

Although the methods undergo many changes, homework and discipline have always, and will always, play an active part in the school system.

As part of every school, spirit is aroused by many at football games, baseball games, basketball games, and clubs. It changes in the way of words, clothing, expressions, and enthusiasm

Cheers are not only used to arouse the crowds anymore, they are also used to show the hatredness of the opponent. For example, after a victory, the winning team is happy, content, but most of all relieved that they didn't lose to "that crumby team." But if you're the opponent and you're the ones who lost, your jaw tightens, your face turns red, and the veins in your neck start to pop out. The only thing you're thinking now is "revenge!" You don't want to go up and shake their hand and tell them it was a good game. The tension of a lost game is not always felt by just the players or the cheerleaders, it is also felt by the fans.

As if to say being angry isn't enough when it comes to losing, some students of other schools think it's necessary to spray paint the walls, break windows, and destroy the school as much as possible. And this, in turn, causes us to turn around and do the same to that school

Homecoming is a big part of school spirit, too. Dressing up, pie-throwing contests, egg-tossing contests, and all other contests included in spirit week, all help build up spirit for the homecoming game and the dance afterward. As tradition, the homecoming king and queen are announced at half time, bringing a lot of people to the game.

Included in school spirit are ribbons, buttons, pep assemblies, bands in the bowl, flowers, suckers, candy canes, and posters spread around the school. Spirit changes very little Spirit can't change the score of the game, it can only bring out the little hope you have left in winning the game

Time and time again, words are misused, overused, and used exaggeratedly. Slang is very commonly known all over the world. It changes continuously and is rarely ever repeated in time. In five years, what we say now will sound odd to us, but what was said ten years prior to that date will sound even stranger.

Think back for a second. How many words in the English language are slang? In the beginning of the decade, anyone who did anything stupid was considered a "dork." Or, if something of yours was missing, it was never stolen or taken, it was always "ripped-off,"

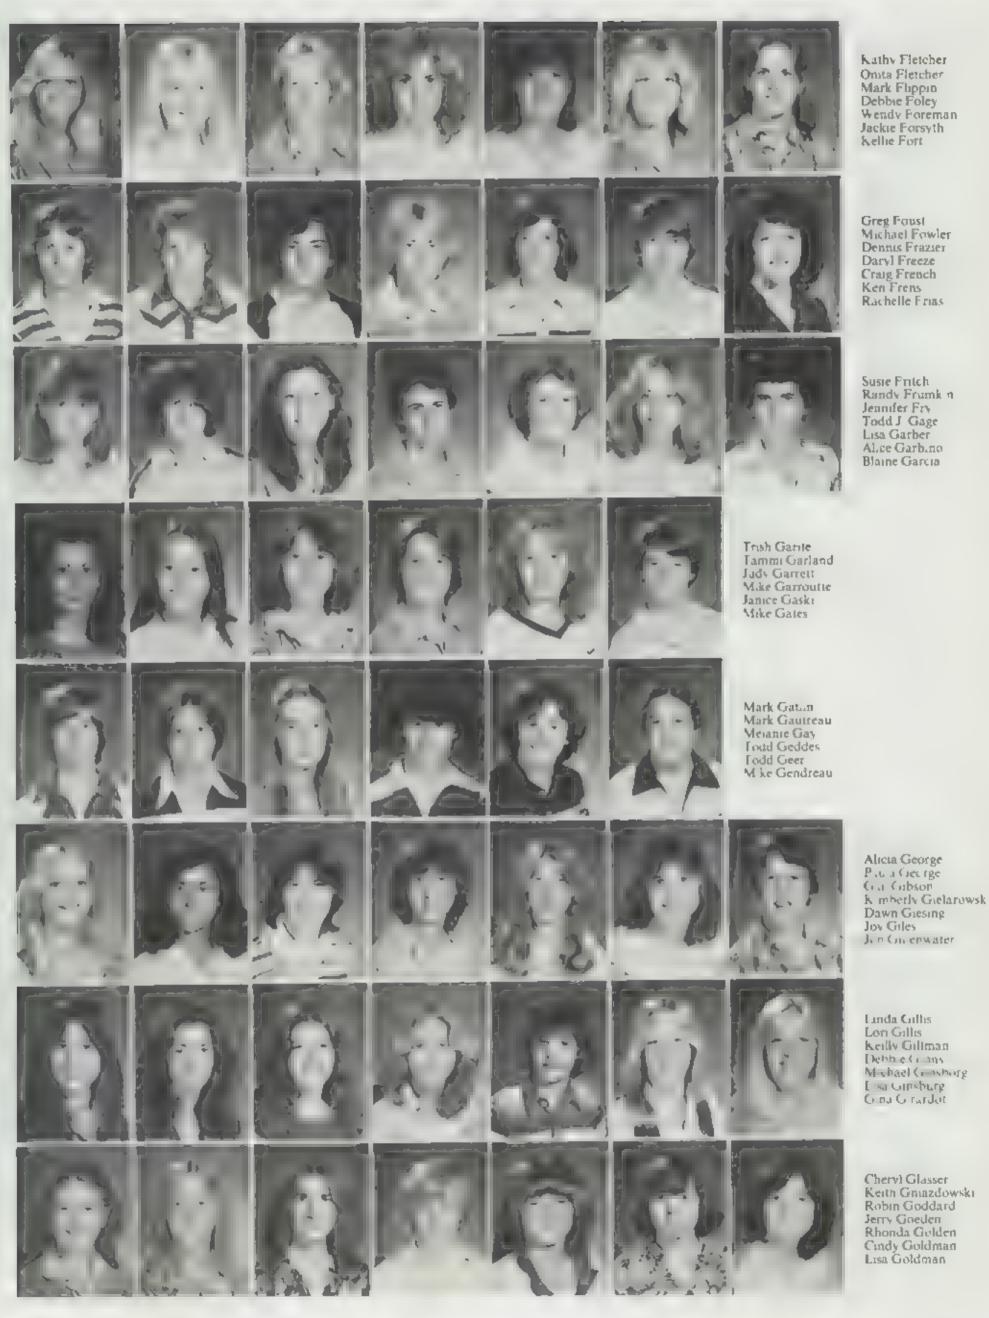

As 1973 moved our way, "chicks" started wearing "Let's Boogie" tee-shirts, causing the phrase to become popular. This was the time when things started looking "neat" and "boss."

In 1976, everybody always wanted to take "foxy" girls "crusin", and anyone who didn't was considered a "nerd." Most thought it was pretty "far-out."

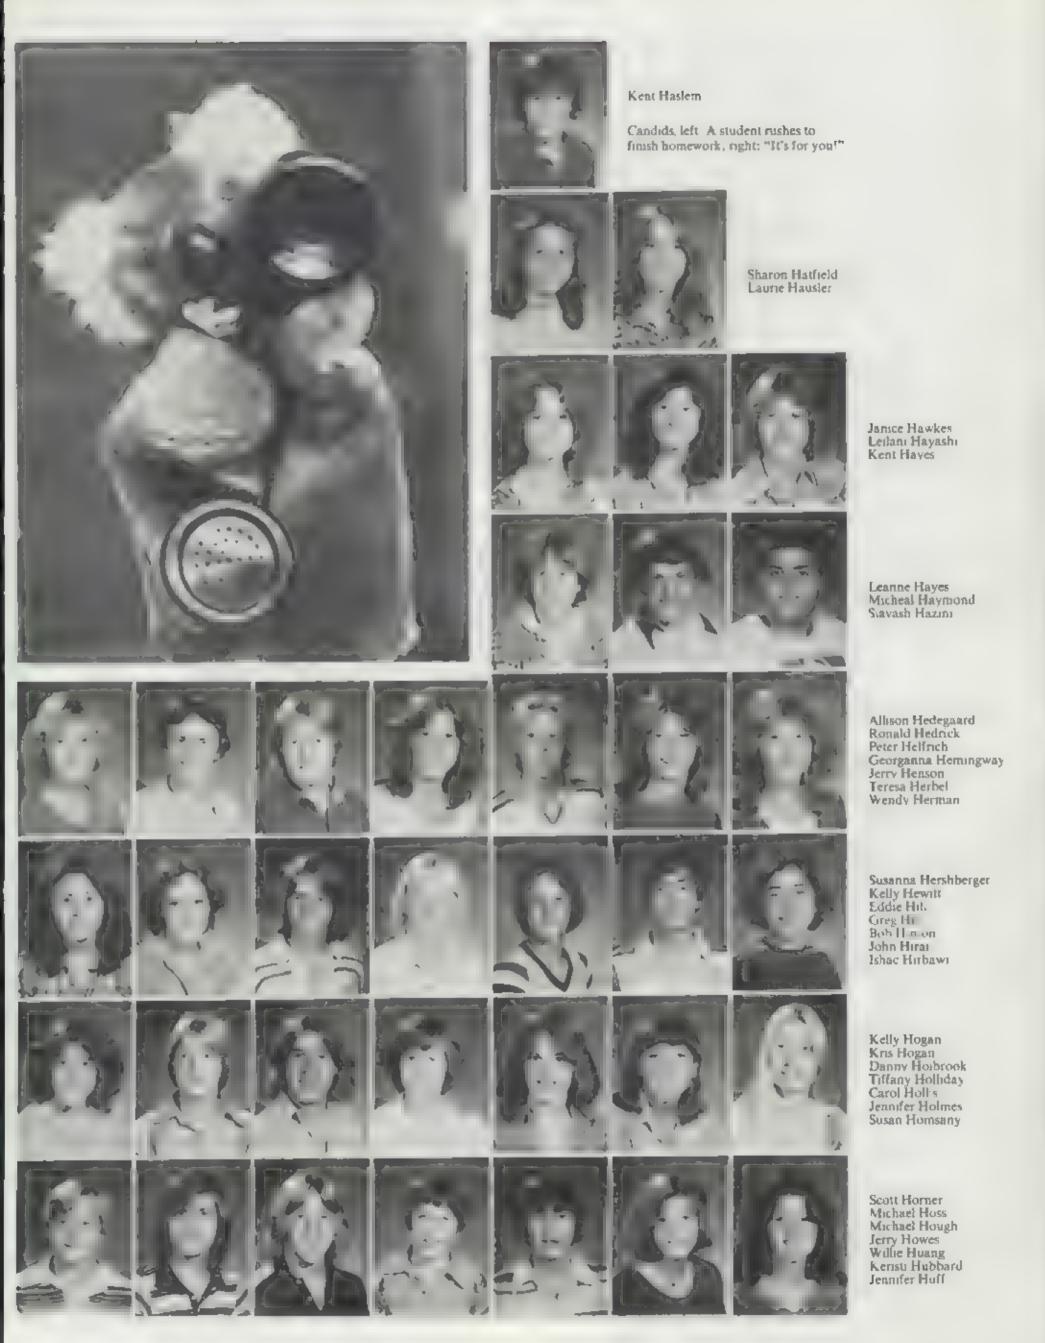

The time came in 1978, when everything was described as either being "cool" or "hot", and if it wasn't either of these. you might as well "shine-it."

The screeching sound of the well known, "Oh no, Mr. Bill," on Saturday Night Live was carried over from 1978 to the end of the decade and will probably continue in many years to come

Slang is always around. It's used everywhere in many different ways. It's not like fashions, where they start at one coast and end at the other. It's different in each state and country.

The prices at your favorite fast food restaurant have been rapidly increasing during the past decade

Remember watching commercials that lured you in by stating the money saved or did not pay? For example, "You and a friend can have lunch for under a buck," "At McDonald's we do it all for you," or at the Colonel "Corn and cluck for under a buck." The other gimmicks included, "And still get change back," "Come in for your free gift," and the newest "Come in and play the _____ game and win!!!" Now, instead of saving, you're winning.

Fast food prices have risen 75% in the course of the last decade. In 1970 your McDonald's hamburger cost 20¢ and now 45¢. As a tradition, you bought french free with your decade. In 1970 your McDonald's hamburger cost 20¢ and now 45¢. As a tradition, you bought french fries with your burger ant in 01970 you paid 15¢ as compared to today's 45¢ price. If you were not in the mood for a hamburger, you could go see the Colonel to get yourself a chick-dinner. Those dinners included a roll, mashed potatoes, and cole slaw. In 1975, the price of a dinner was $1.35; now, you can buy the same dinner for $1.67, a slight increase. Moving south of the border to Del Taco, for a taco and medium soft drink, the cost in 1973 was 45¢ for the taco and 25¢ for the soft drink. The taco now costs 75¢ and the drink 50¢.

After you ate at your favorite fast food restaurant you could deposit your change in your ash tray or splurge on a quick dessert. 31 Flavors for a single scoop ice cream cone has always been nice in the summertime, especially in 1973 when it cost only 25¢; now, that same ice cream cone costs 50¢. If it was not so hot? Then you could drop by Winchell's for a jelly doughnut and cup of hot chocolate. In 1977, you payed 16¢ for doughnut and 25¢ for your hot chocolate. Now in 1980, the doughnut costs 25¢ and the hot chocolate costs 30¢.

Looking forward to the future?? In the year 2020 if prices continue to increase at the rate they are increasing today, your McDonald's hamburger will cost a whopping $4.35.

In the early 1970's it seemed as if the roads were invaded by "bugs." The Volkswagen "Beetle" was the economy car of this period. "Bugs" with flowers and other decorations painted on them were around in swarms. Cars were even customized like "Herbie the Love Bug" of movie fame.

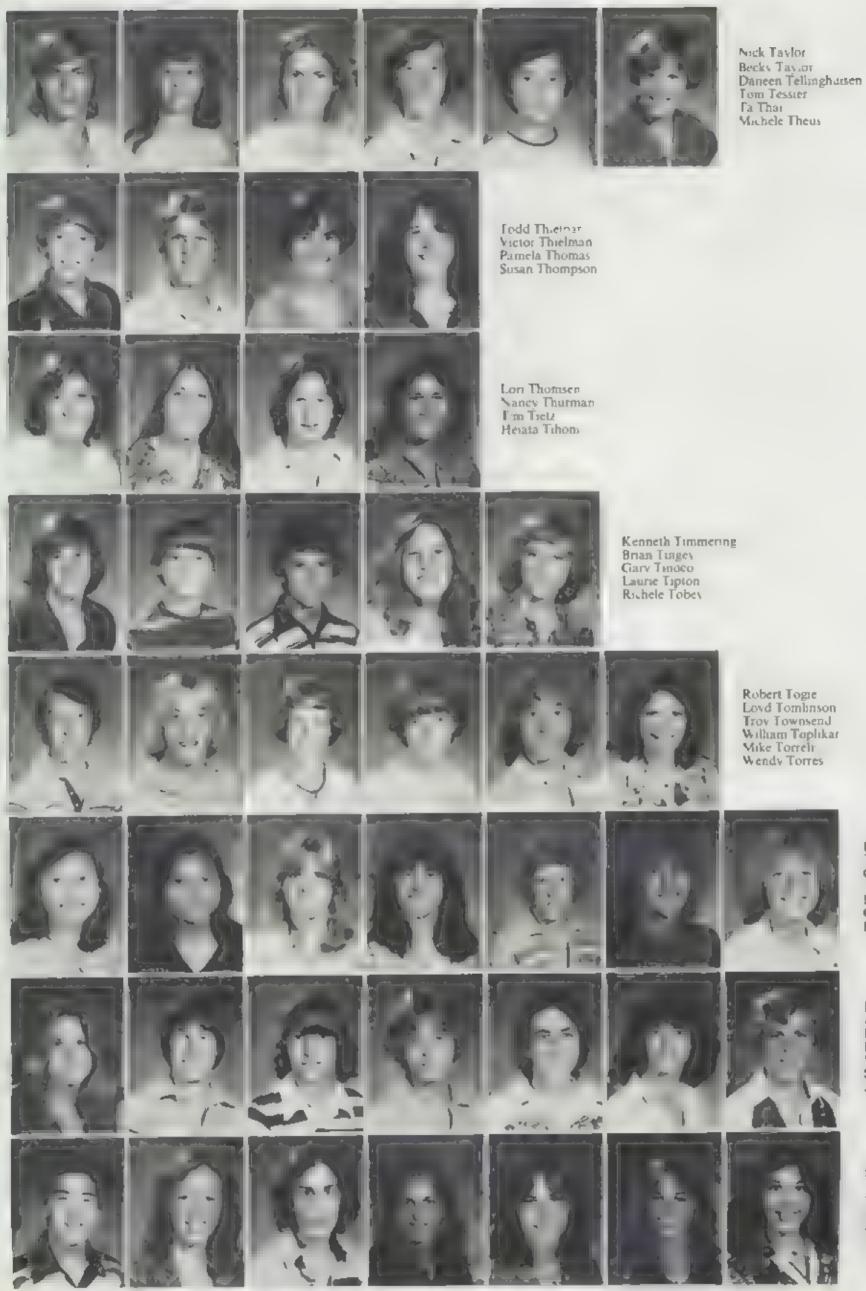

Customizing became extremely popular in the mid '70's. Vans became elaborate, with stereos, refrigerators, carpeting, furniture and other accessories. Vans were looked at as a status symbol by many people, but most parents were leery when their daughters dated "boys with vans." Motor homes were another type of custom vehicle popular in the 1970's. While vacationing in one of these, a family could travel hundreds of miles while still enjoying the comforts of home.

In the mid-to-late 1970's, gas shortages caused prices to go over $1 a gallon. The gas crunch influenced all types of cars, causing the emphasis to change from comfort to practicality. Small cars such as Toyotas, Pintos, Colts, and Vegas became popular. People turned in their vans and went "fun truckin" in small-sized pickups, instead.

Despite the high prices of gas, luxury cars were popular throughout the decade. The people who could afford to buy those cars could afford to buy the gas to run them. Mercedes, Porsches, Panteras, Trans Ams and Cadillacs, were cars that showed prestige.

Throughout the 1970's it was important for the driver of a car to be entertained. Tape decks were a necessary addition to most cars. C.B. radios offered communication with other drivers as well as being something interesting to listen to. For those not able to afford a C.B., yet still wanting to communicate with their fellow drivers, signs were available that could be changed to tell a person exactly what you thought. Bumper stickers were another form of expression linked to cars. Stickers promoting various causes could be seen on the back bumpers of many cars.

All in all, cars will always be important to our society, not only as a means of getting around but also to express one's individuality.

The clothing trends of the seventies varied throughout the years, causing many individual looks for those wishing to express themselves.

In the early seventies, war was still with us and so were the sixties, evident in the clothing worn by both males and females. The females expressed themselves by wearing mini skirts, hot pants, jumpsuits, hip-huggers and fishnet hose. Boys, on the other hand, wore corduroy Levi's with white Hang Ten tee-shirts.

Moving toward the mid-seventies, girls started to cover up with polyester double knit pantsuits, Ditto's and toe socks. Gauchos replaced the hot pants, and now tee-shirts were a means of expressing a feeling or thought.

Boys changed also, now wearing new labels such as Brittania, Ocean Pacific, and Lightning Bolt; however, they still wore Levi's jeans which caused a "semi-surfer" look.

As we moved to the latter portion of the decade, movies affected not only our fashio?, but lyfe styles too. The Annie Hall look of 1976-1977 consisted of layers upon layers of clothing. It also was a tailored look that caused girls to go into their brothers' closets; in fact, some even took their brothers' ties. This look had little effect on boys, except for the shortage of some clothes.

A change came in December of 1977, when the movie "Saturday Night Fever" first appeared on screen. The disco craze was now in full swing. Both boys and girls participated in this fashion change. The boys put their Levi's in moth balls and bought the new Angel Flight polyester pants and Left Bank shirts. The girls, wanting to show off everything they had, wore bright tube tops, Quiana wrap around skirts, plastic see-through pants, and anything else that had a slinky appearance

Music made the next change in the fashion world "The Sex Pistols" "999," "Devo," and many other groups lent their bizarre tastes in fashion to the teens of '79. The styles were wild and far out ranging from safety pins in their cheeks to safety pins through their tee-shirts, mixed colors and mixed patterns of clothing in all, almost anything different that attracted attention was "in" These styles were shared by both sexes.

Clothing has always been a means of expressing one's self, and through clothing we helped to build the seventies to what they were.

Guess who "Guess Who" was? Their hit in 1970 was "American Woman." Many artists who were popular at the beginning of the decade such as Three Dog Night ("Joy to the World"), Gilbert O'Sullivan ("Alone Again"), and Terry Jacks ("Seasons in the Sun") are not heard from much now. Others, Led Zeppelin, Chicago, Rod Stewart and Neil Young are still going strong.

The Beatles broke up at the start of the '70's but John, Paul, George and Ringo each had songs of their own during the decade which made the top ten.

In the early '70's the Jacksons were still learning their "ABC'S." David Cassidy was the heart throb of young girls. Later he was replaced by his brother Shaun. Carole King had a hit album in both 1971 and 1972 with "Tapestry." People are still trying to interpret Don MacLean's 1972 hit "American Pie." Who could forget the flamboyant dress of Elton John or Cher? They provided a sharp contrast to John Denver's "country boy" image.

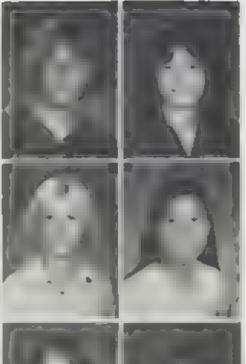

Throughout the decade people listened to the soundtracks of "Jesus Christ Superstar," "The Way We Were," "A Star is Born," "Star Wars," "Close Encounters of the Third Kind," and "Grease." Another movie, "Saturday Night Fever," with music by the Bee Gees, started the nation dancing to the disco beat. Disco Fever was a dominant force in the late '70's with stars like Donna Summer, Andy Gibb, and the Emotions.

Quite opposite from disco, was rock 'n' roll. Rock stars such as the Rolling Stones, Van Halen, Queen and Cheap Trick were very popular in the late '70's. In addition to this type of rock, a new type of music emerged. Punk Rock became a cult, its members adopting values contrary to those accepted by society. The Sex Pistols, Devo, and the Clash were a few of these groups.

The evolution of different types of music in the 1970's shows how people's values and tastes have changed. What's to come of the '80's? Who knows???

In the early 1970's, the price of drugs was, of course, a lot cheaper. A "lid" ranged from $10.00-15.00 depending on its quality and the dealer. A kilo usually ran about $150.00. Acid could be bought for as low as $2.00, but usually ran about $5.00.

Time passed (right along with the joint), and your friend who five years ago had started out on manjuana, was now more involved and strung out. He partied a lot more. You always saw him rolling a joint or trying to buy some hash from someone.

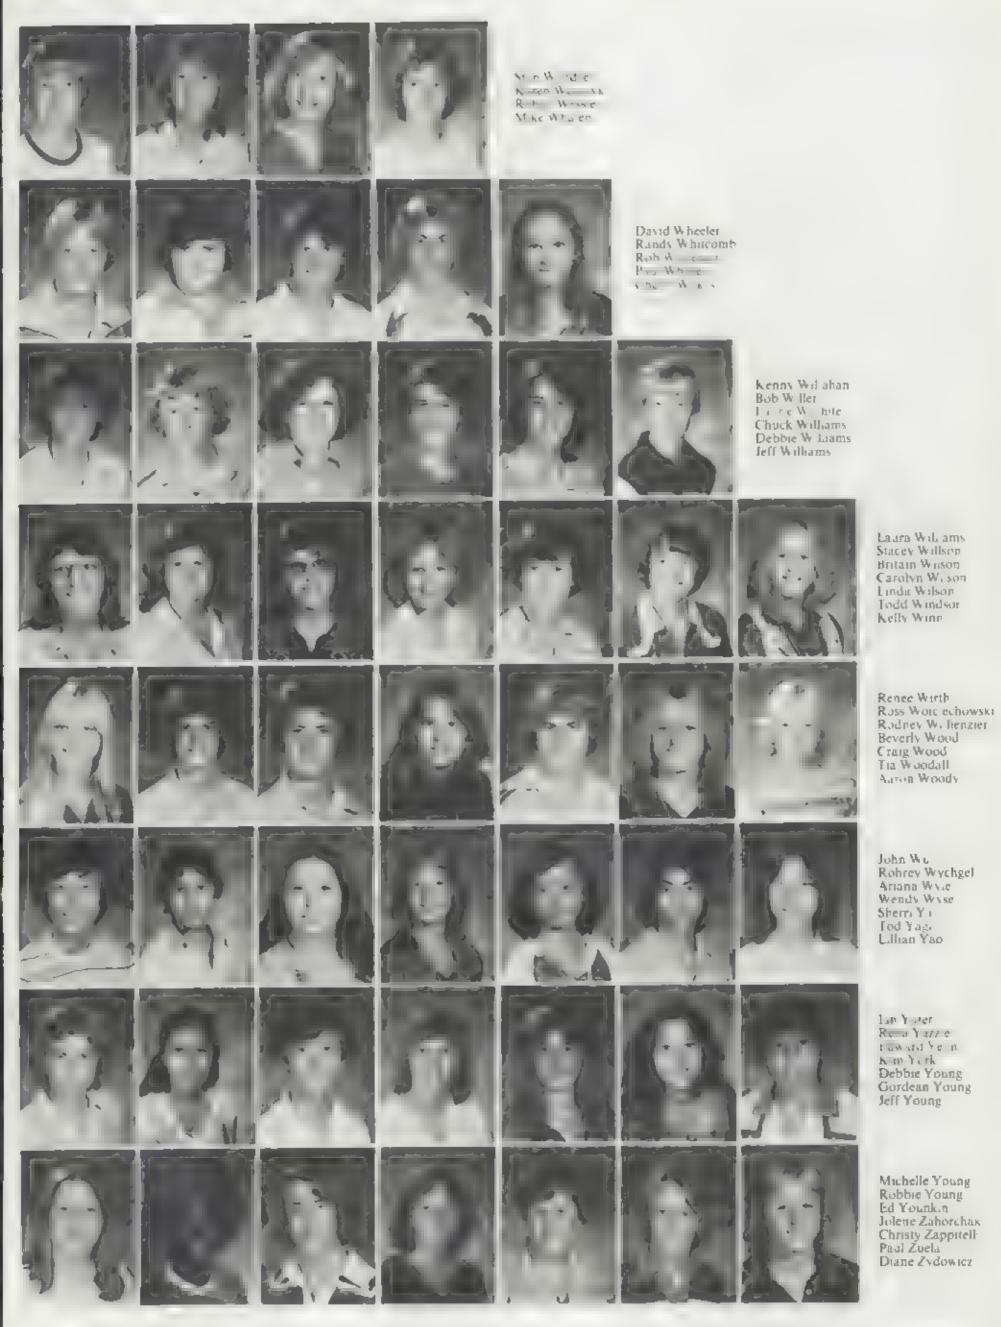

it's now 1979. Your friend has approximately 6.5 brain celts lett in his head, which only work on Mondays and Saturdays (holidays not included). He's more buzzed, more often now then he ever dreamed he'd be eight years ago. He no longer saves 50¢ a day from lunch money during the week to buy a couple of joints for the weekend. Instead, he saves his weekly paycheck in order to buy an ounce which lasts a couple of days. He doesn't sit around waiting to get stoned with his friends; he does it whether or not they're there.

He lives on drugs. He spends more money on drugs in one week than he does on food in two weeks. He's willing to pay $15.00 for one thai-stick that will get him high for eight hours or so, or even $3 00-5 00 for a hit of LSD.

The usage of drugs has risen considerably in California in the past ten years because of one main reason: the law. The possession of an ounce of marijuana is now considered a misdemeanor, but the cultivation of an ounce is a felony. This holds true for pot and only pot.

Ten years ago, pot was associated with long hair, beaded vests, and dirty clothes. The way someone dresses now has nothing to do with the fact of who does or does not smoke pot. Today we find many types of people in society: the ones who get high on pot; the ones who get high on coke; the ones who get high on life and even the ones who get a "cheap high" off of deodorant. There are your typical college students who pop pills in order to stay up later; there are your addicted loadies; total loadies; semi-loadies; once-every-two-week loadies: I'll smoke-it-to-be-cool loadies, and last but not least your non-loadies.

At the beginning of the seventies, the frequency of drug usage was more common but less publicized. Toward the end, hard drugs were less common. In the future, drugs will probably fade out even more, but what's left will be even more talked about.

Varsity Football Scores Again

This year's 1979-1980 Varsity Football team went through some heavy changes with Coach Mike Milner replacing 13 year veteran Coach Bruce Pickford. They also lost 20 of their previous 22 starters, and they faced a lot of pressure trying to live up to last year's CIF Championship. The League was much tougher this year with Marina's surprising showing and a stronger Edison team Our team was a lot smaller in number and in physique, allowing for a tot of juniors with little experience to play. Despite these obstacles, Fountain Valley had some exciting games as was proven against Servite when we won 21-18 and against Loyola when we almost doubled the score with 42-25 Some outstanding players included Captains Todd Holmes and Lyle Miller, Andy DeLuca, receiver of the "Most Valuable Player" award, and Todd Woodley, who was awarded

"Most Improved Player." A scholarship was also awarded to Mark York The Baron team placed third in the Sunset League, with a record of six wins, three losses, and one tie The Coaches predict a good winning season next year, as we will have many returning juniors. Some outstanding returning juniors will be Jack Bramen, Emile Harry, Keith Richards, and Kyle Thompson

JV Ties for Title

Jumor Varsity football, better known as simply "JV" football is really nothing more than an extension of the Varsity team. It is primarily made up of second string Varsity players, Jumor team members and anyone else who didn't get to play the night before. You could find these players on the field early Saturday mornings, rain or shine, competing in front of a small crowd of the more loyal of the Friday night turnouts. The passing and receiving of Mike DeNuccio and Keith Marshall proved effective when this year's team wrapped it up with one of the finest seasons ever, tying for first with Newport Beach H S., and ending up with an excellent record of six wins, one loss, and one tie. Some of the more outstanding players included John Kincaid with Most Improved and Tom Naploi with Most Valuable. Everyone is looking forward to yet another outstanding team in the 1980-1981 season.

Sophomores Prove They're Best in Orange County

Fountain Valley's Sophomores turned in a perfect season as they swept past all nine opponents. In doing so they captured the Sunset League title as well as a reputation of being the best Sophomore team in Orange County. The Barons were strong at every position. Their explosive offense, that averaged over 28 points per game, was centered around the running of "Most Valuable Player" Rod Emery and the passing of Captain Matt "The Hammer"

Stevens. The swarming defense was led by Captain Greg Victorino and a host it others including "Most Improved Player" Mike Greeson. Coach Guy Carrozzo, in his first year at the helm of the sophomores, felt that their biggest games of the year were the come-frombehind victories over Servite and Edison. He went on to say that he feels this team will produce many outstanding Varsity players for the 1980-1981 season

Freshman Teams Have Winning Season

Both Freshman teams, Sunset and District, had a very successful 1979 football season. The Freshman Sunset team, under the coaching of Dave Fitzpatrick, ended the season with a record of 9-0 and took the Sunset League title. Quarterback Dale Frye was voted "Most Improved Player," passing for 566 yards and 8 touchdowns. The Sunset team, scoring 250 points in the season, was led by Captain and "Most Valuable Player," Scott Garrett, Scott ran for 14 touchdowns and gained 760 yards. Other outstanding players included Captain Paul Whitley, Cory Barnes, Roger Loyo, Craig Wood, backs Bruce Cook and Rodney Scott, and receivers Chris Lung, Todd Thomas, and Rob Whitehair. The District team placed second this year, ending their season with seven wins, one loss, and one tie. Captains Brian Pavalko and Mike Whalen led the team under the coaching of Wayne Mickaelian, Manny Garcia was voted "Most Valuable Plaver" and Ron Jensen took the title of "Most Improved Player." The district teams have only lost two games in the last three years. Many outstanding players will emerge from these two teams and play for the Varsity team in years to come

Cross Country Strides for Perfection

Both Varsity and Junior Varsity teams competed typically well this season. Under the instruction of Coach Thompson, the teams finished first in league as well as excelling in many invitationals. Varsity finished third in both Buena Park and Castic Lake Invitationals, and second in Orange County, and had a final league record of 5-1 Varsity Team Captain Andre Hellams and Most Valuable Player Tom Strelow both competed for the top finishing times with Most Improved Bob Erickson. The threesome and Doug Price consistently finished at the top of the team. This was Varsity's fourth consecutive year to win league and Coach Thompson expects at least an equivalent season next year. Junior Varsity came in first this season for the third year with a record of 4-1. Although Junior Varsity Captain Greg Dell and Most Valuable Player Kevin Conroy are graduating this year, Most Improved Steve Deeley is expected to return next year for a productive sea-

Frosh/Sophs Have Excellent Track Record

This year's Sophomore and Freshman Cross Country Teams did an outstanding job as a team as well as individually. Water Polo Sets School Record

The 1979-80 Water Polo team had a successful season; all teams placed top three in league. Coach Eich commented that the teams finished higher than any other polo teams in the school's history, despite being the youngest. He went on to say that with the loss of only two seniors, next season looks quite promising. Those seniors include Steve Victorino (driver) who was voted Most Valuable Player and Bruce Johnston (holeman) who was voted Team Captain. This year's Varsity Most Improved was John Dempsey. Varsity finished third in league with many close scores like 11-10 against Huntington Beach and 10-9 against Marina, showing how competitive Sunset League is in water polo. This year's team was ranked tenth in CIF but was defeated in the first round by sixth ranked Buena Park. Junior Varsity placed second in league with a wide margin victory of 17-2 against Edison finishing with a 3-2 league record. Junior Varsity's Most Valuable Player award went to Scott Calhoon and Most Improved was Dave Broch

Frosh/Soph Water Polo Make a Big Splash

Sophomore and Freshman Water Polo teams had an equally prosperous season as J.V. and Varsity Polo. Sophomores tied for second with Edison, finishing with a 3-2 league score. They also placed second at the Los Alamitos Tournament. They had many victories including a landslide of 20-3 against Westminster and a less marginal one of 6-5 against Huntington Beach. Sophomores' Most Valuable Plaver award went to Steve Lendino and Freshmen's went to Mark Wang. Most Improved Sophomore was Donna Dempsey and Freshmen's was Clint Joyce. The Freshman team, who demolished Huntington Beach 68-6, placed third in league. Their team captain was Dan Iwaiman

Girl's Tennis Has Smashing Comeback

This year the Girl's Tennis team had a very successful season. With a final league record of 6-4, long hard practices in the fall as well as the summer really paid off. The dual coaching staff of Mr. Snowden and Mr. Byrd devoted many extra hours helping the Junior Varsity squad who will contribute to next year's success. Varied strategies were utilized in an attempt to beat the undefeated Newport Harbor team, but lost by a slim margin. Senior, Donna

Mills, Team Captain and third year letterman, led the team's enthusiasm. She was number one on the singles ladder and devoted much of her time towards organization and undoubtedly will be missed. Most Valuable Player award went to the doubles team of Jolene Hood and Laura Ballard and Singles Player Michele Myska. Most Improved Player was JoAnne Brown who showed great advancement this year as number two in doubles

Girl's Field Hockey "Sticks It to 'Em"

This year's Field Hockey team had a very trying season. Because the teams had only five returning players from the previous season, challenging games were inevitable. In spite of this, Coach Purnell commented that the girls did very well and "watch out for them next year." This year the teams were coached by both Ms. Purnell and Ms. Nokes, who plays field hockey for Calif. State Long Beach. This was Ms. Nokes' second year coaching at FVHS.

Varsity's Most Valuable Player was Annes Engle, who also received Best Defensive Player recognition. Most Inspirational was Susie Coloma and Best Offensive Player was Carne Bayshore. The 1979-80 Varsity Wrestling season was one of the most successful in the history of Fountain Valley High School. This year's team finished with a perfect season record of 15-0, regaining the Sunset League title. Junior Kevin Woody lead this year's team along with Semors Rick Nozaki, Jay Yomogida, John McCarthy, Andrew Morgan,

David Olson, and Joe Anello, and also helped the team place first in both Edison 8-way and Sonora Tourney, third in Carlsbad, and fourth in the Edgewood Tourney. This year's Varsity Wrestling brought back the winning tradition, which will continue in the years to come

Teams Show Promising Future

This year's Junior Varsity and Frosh /Soph Wrestling teams had superior seasons, both finishing first in their leagues The Junior Varsity team led by Captain Ritchie Post, Ken Walsh, Frank Aquirre, and Ron Staffier, had an undefeated season. Top Frosh/Soph

participants Captain Mike Mino, Steve Mino, Denny Radford, Dean Roberts, and Chip Dickerson, helped obtain the team title. Both Junior Varsity and Frosh/Soph teams show tremendous wrestling potential in the coming years, assuring future league championships

Varsity Soccer Has Eventful Season

Under the direction of Coach Dan Scobell, Varsity soccer had a competitive year against tough teams. Returning Senior player Brian Sjollema gave a showing of excellent performance as a team captain and was awarded "Most Valuable Player", at the end-of-theseason Soccer banquet. The recognition of "Most Improved Player" was bestowed upon two year athlete, Keith Marshall. One of the year's most highlighted games was against rival Edison where the Baron team played a hard game and lost 5-3. The more notorious wins were against Cypress, Marina, Newport Harbor, and Huntington Beach. Outstanding Varsity players included Mike Mullen, Jim Rosewitz, Chuck Smoot, Ly Nguyen, Scott Steinke, and Troy Townsend. The 1979-1980 Varsity Soccer team ranked second place in District tournament

Soccer Teams Show Promising Future

The 1979-1980 Junior Varsity soccer team had a successful season, winning many exciting games. Outstanding leaders included "Most Valuable Player" Luan Nguyen, "Most Improved Player" Steve Borman, and Captain Kevin Farrell. Big wins came against Huntington Beach, Westminster, and Newport Harbor where the scores were 6-1, 3-1, and 3-1 respectively. Each player on the JV team gave an all-out performance during every practice as well as the games. Freshman and Sophomore soccer players had a winning season with a tie for first place in the district rank. "Most Valuable Player" awards were given to two outstanding scorers, Todd Andrews and Robert Munck, while the recognition of "Most Improved Player" was given to Eric Kisner. Under the coaching of Dennis Boaz and team Captain Robert Folkins, the Frosh/Soph players worked together in a total team effort to tie the Crespi JV's, a top ranked program in CIF. One of the season's larger wins came in a sweep against Newport Harbor, where the ending score was 13-0. Best games included a 3-3 tie against rival Edison and a 4-2 win over Westminster High Coach Boaz commented that this was a "solid" team. The only league loss came when "Player of the Year" Paul Catlett was "red carded" in the first quarter game against Huntington Beach. The Barons were forced to obey CIF rules by continuing play with ten players against a tough Oiler team. The future looks extremely bright for Fountain Valley Soccer.

The Big Blue Shoots for Two

With no returning players, this year's Varsity Basketball team had a first string consisting of four Juniors and one Senior. Even with a slow start going 1-4 against highly ranked teams at the beginning of the season, the Baron team evened their record at 7-7 in the tough Sunset League. They surprised many experts by getting off to an outstanding start in league play Under the coaching of Dave Brown, the team was led by the exciting all-around play of Jeff Christensen, the skillful ball handling of Emile Harry, strong rebounding of Frank Luongo and the steady play of Chris Cowan and Fred Marshall. Paul Kerchenfaut, Guy McBee, Dan Miller, and Dennis Eldridge all made great contributions to the total team effort coming off of the bench in crucial situations. Junior Jeff Christensen was awarded All Sunset League player

Basketball Teams Have Promising Seasons

Under the coaching advisement of Jim McNamara. JV Basketball had a competitive year. "Most Valuable Player," Kerry Rea, was JV's most consistent player, while "Most Improved Player." Ken Frens and Kirk Harty, were top scorers. Team captain Kris Tompkins led the Barons to win against opponents such as Corona del Mar. Westminster and Newport Future Varsity prospects include Kerry Rea, Kirk Harty, Kris Tompkins, Ken Frens, Alan Villahueva, and Greg Bohn. Under the leadership of Coach Gordon Billingsley, the Sophomore Basketball team consisted of fourteen hard working members. Excellent players included Greg Arnold, Lance Kubo and Ken Harter. Greg Arnold was a team captain and the second leading scorer Ken Harter was the Sophomore team's leading scorer and rebounder. This year's team averaged 60 points per game and promises to have a good showing next year on the Junior and Varsity squads.

Basketball Highly Talented

The Freshman Sunset Basketball team had a progressive year under the direction of first-year coach Mike Wilhams. Losing their first games inspired the Sunset team to work harder and show greater improvement over the next eleven out of fourteen wins. Outstanding players included "Most Valuable Player" Chuck Williams, "Most Improved Player" Julian Harry, and Captain Rob Whitehair. The Sunset team's goals this year were to unite their best efforts toward improvement of basketball skills through team work and pride. Those goals helped them to win two-thirds of their total season games and take a third place finish in the eight team FVHS Frosh Tournament. Big games of the year included a 40-39 win over Huntington Beach and a 37-36 win over Mission Viejo. This year's Freshman District Basketball was coached by Barry Fry. The team had a very competitive year playing many strong opponents such as Mater Dei and Ocean View. Captain Tod Yagi helped lead the team through many tough games, "Most Valuable Player" award was given to Todd Thomas, while "Most Improved Player" was awarded to Russ Geck. Other outstanding players included Ron Eccles, Manuel Garcia, and Gene Kato who had high participation rates. Both Freshman teams should look forward to excellent basketball seasons in the years to come

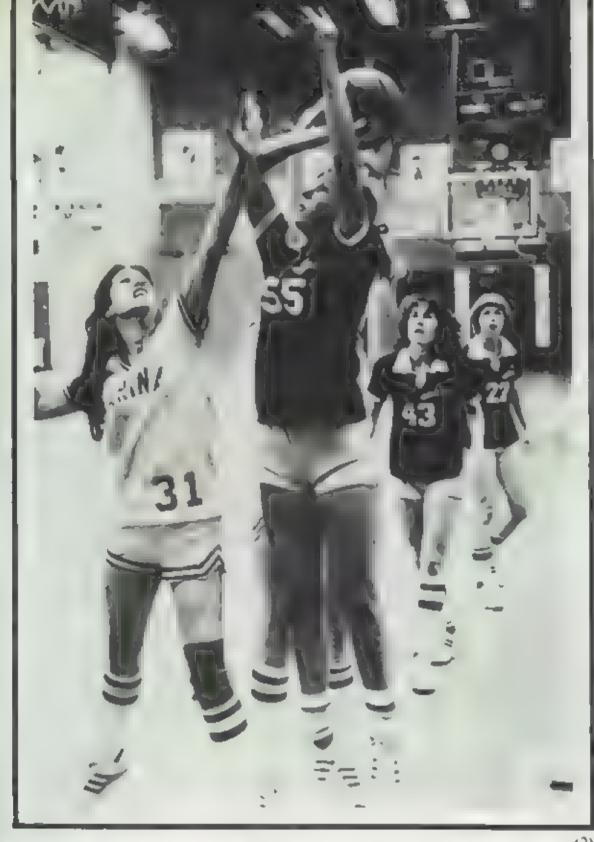

Girls' Basketball Rebounds for Third

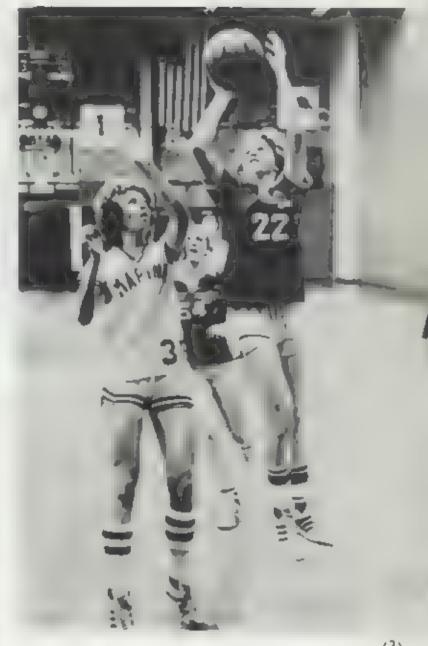

The Girls' Basketball team had a challenging and rewarding season Although the girls felt they could have done better, they placed third in league and made it to the second round in CIF. In the Garden Grove Tournament, they placed third out of thirty-two teams. Lee Ann Margerum and Marianne Belgen made the First Team All League and Chris Bolin and Courtney Dillon made Second Team All League. Lee Ann Margerum and Chris Bolin also stood out for their high scoring average while Courtney Dillon was known for her great rebounding ability Proving well in tournaments as well as league and CIF, the team's skill really was evident, no matter how tough the competition was

This year's Gymnastics team was expected to set a Baron record by winning its second C.I.F. Championship. Outstanding gymnasts included Adwayne Bernard on high bar, Scott Picquelle on pommel horse and Blaine Tripp on the parallel bar. Cody Oakland, Ed Baker and John Griffin also added depth to the all-around team. At the Westminster C.I.F. Review Meet, the gymnasts really excelled, including Scott Picquelle, Cody Oakland and John Griffin placing first in team pommel horse. Cody Oakland, John Griffin and Ed Baker placed first in team vaulting. Adwayne Bernard, Cody Oakland and John Griffin placed first in team horizontal bar. At the All Southern California Monrow Invitational, Scott Picquelle placed first on the pommel horse, Cody Oakland placed third in the floor exercise and Adwayne Bernard came in fifth in the high bar. With their typical hard work and stride for perfection, the team headed for league success.

Girls' Gymnastics Tumble to Success

This year's Girls' Gymnastics team was comprised of many returning gymnasts. Among those returning were top athletes and CIF contenders Lon Hoffman, Lynn Hoffman and Debbie Graves, with Julie Florini, Jeri Kraft, Kim Mastrangelo and Janet Voss Newcomers to the team were Karin and Kim Perry, with top CIF hopefuls Lisa Tam and Kris Weber, The Junior Varsity team, coached by Lisa Murry entered the season with top competitors Jennifer Sims, Lori Fleck, Brenda

McBride and Darlene Schorovsky, with Christy Copper, Ann Buttowski, Jennifer Hill, Chris McCabe, Suzy Tate, Carne Bobbins and Lisa Kojima This year the team was very strong and had a great chance of winning CIF admitted Coach Bartlett. Their two major obstacles were Huntington Beach and Cresenta Valley High. The team began its season strong by winning their pre-season meets against Schurr and El Dorado High

Girls' Volleyball Nets Success

The Girls' Volleyball team did well this year, having many close games. Although they had many inexperienced girls, each excelled through hard practices and stiff competition. The girls placed fourth this season and agreed that it was well worth the effort. Freshman Varsity member Piper Sexton played for Orange County Volleyball Club and was one of the many girls who showed great potential. Varsity's Most Valuable Player Award went to both Mary Lange and Dede Catherman whose team dedication was really shown. Most Inspirational was Junior Debbie Daniloff and Most Improved was Tracy McKeough. The girls also competed in several tournaments which included placing third at the Millikin Tournament.

Net Teams Snag Success

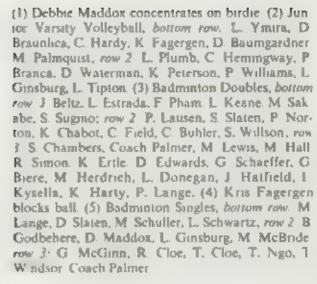

The 1979-1980 Badminton team made a major change to include boys as well as girls at the varsity level. Competition consisted of five Girls' Singles, five Girls' Doubles, three Boys' Doubles and two Mixed Doubles. This year's team had many returning members plus outstanding new talent. The Girls' Singles squad had many veterans including fourth year Debbie Maddox, third year Becky Godbehere, and second year Linda Schwartz. Double's fourth year Laurie Donegan, third year Maniee Herdrich and third year Julie Hatfield and Lisa Kysella. In the Boisa

Grande Tournament, Laurie Donegan and Marilee Herdrich placed second out of nineteen teams and Linda Schwartz placed fourth out of fifty-five, while Becky Godbehere placed eighth The team's major effort was to recapture the Sunset League title last attained in 1977. Junior Varsity Volleyball had many excellent girls, including Dana Waterman who was awarded "Most Valuable Player" and Cathy Hardy who was "Most Improved Player." "Most Inspirational" was Linda Ymira.

Dance Performs Excellently

Fountain Valley's Modern Dance team had an outstanding year and participated in many lively concerts. The dancers went to the yearly Winter Choreographers Concert which was held at the Huntington Beach Auditorium Many area high schools, such as Laguna and Huntington, joined forces and put on a spectacular performance With the assistance of Mrs Donna Jones, top student choreographers from Fountain Valley High School included Peter Adams, Jackie Carr, Jody Israelsky, Lori Jones, Diana Kavilis, Connie Olson, and Alison Rustvold. Student Coordinators put together a dance entitled "Jovs of Winter" and were awarded the Choreographers Award at the Winter Concert The added strength of four talented male members on the dance team helped in the more strenuous maneuvers. The Spring Concert, which they had worked on for months, was also an outstanding event. With the further development and expansion of Modern Dance, we can look forward to many more inspiring concerts next year and in the years to come

Divers and Surfers Show Precise Styles

Under the instruction of coach Mike Williams, and team captain Mike Bennett, and through each member's own time to practice, the Orange Coast Surfing League maintained a record of 2-2. Tom Martin made this year's league All-stars and was voted Most Valuable Player of the year. He took fourth place in the High School State Championships and placed sixth in this year's Winter National Surfing Championships. The most improved surfer of the year was Scott Morgan. Though half the diving team consisted of new members, through much hard practice and the outstanding diving ability of Patti Atzert and Mike Armour, the diving team had a successful year.

Varsity Volleyball Surpasses Opponents

The Varsity Volleyball team had a very competitive year against many strong teams. With six returning Sen iors and eight players up from the Junior Varsity team, Barons were potentially powerful and gained recognition for teamwork play. This experienced team was invited to many tournaments throughout the season including the popular Orange County and Inglewood matches, Strong starting members were Rey Gubernick, Kirk Harty, Brent King, Jim Speth, Todd Story, Drake

Turner, and Rob Von Hatten. Coach Rick Evans commended Kirk Harty's strong blocking and Drake Turner's continuous hitting. With a new coach Mike Williams, and three returning lettermen, the Junior Varsity team mainly consisted of new incoming Sophomores and Juniors. The JV team was inexperienced but had one advantage, most of them were very tall, averaging 6 feet in height. They had a very challenging season

Administration

The administration here at FVHS work very hard every day to make sure school will run much in the same manner as it did the day before. We take this for granted sometimes, but want them to know their efforts are greatly appreciated and that as we look toward the new decade, FVHS will always be bold

Counselors

Like many teachers, counselors are available year around for students who seek personal guidance. Students can ask for help at almost any time, but they do need an appointment first!

The counselors help the students to get classes that they need to graduate One of the busiest times for the counselor is registration. They make changes in the students' programs and time schedules. They also help students with problems that they have with their families and their daily lives.

"One major change in the English Department," stated Mrs. Holder, "has been a return to basic skills, particularly in the area of written communication. The Language Arts proficiency test, which students must pass in order to graduate, has made more students aware of the importance of good writing skills. A second major change is the elimination of electives for Junior English. A third major change is the 4-year requirement in English. This new district requirement will, hopefully, strengthen students' skills and better prepare them to meet the challenges of the future."

"The Home Economics Department at Fountain Valley had a much different appearance than ten years ago, as there are many boys enrolled in the course offerings," Pat Odell, Department Chairperson, commented. This is partly due to the emphasis on life skills and also the changing roles of men and women in today's world. Many new and interesting classes have made Home Ec more exciting than it has ever been.

Typing, shorthand, and learning how to work new types of business machines, are all a part of the always growing Business departments. Students can earn a certificate in these classes by taking a certain number of credits. These classes provide knowledge and background for the many years ahead

Language

The past year has been the best ever for the Foreign Language Department. The whole staff has gone from good to excellent. We have had the largest enrollment in Fountain Valley History on a percentage basis, and we have the most variety of any school. "Our foreign Language Department is Numero Uno, second to none," says Department Chairman, Mr. Giron

Mathematics

In 1968, students at FVHS were enrolling into such math classes as General Math, Algebra and Geometry When the 1970's rolled around, students were still taking these classes. As the new decade made its way into the mind of the students, a new generation of Math came in: Consumer Math. Calculas and the ever popular Trigonometry. "With all the new and exciting math classes students are showing a special interest," Department Chairman Paul Burke said. He also commented, "Students are taking four years of math instead of two years and these are more advanced than ever."

Physical Education

Even the Physical Education Department has progressed to a good example of 10 years' worth of hard work and dedication. The times have led us to co-ed elective classes, experienced teachers, new faces, and Title IX, which grants equal sports opportunities for females. "The biggest change noticed is Large Classes" stated Department Chairperson, Mr. Mickaelian. We hope to see more sports classes offered in the future

Science/Arts

Industrial Arts is not exactly an art class, but a combination of educational teachings. Industrial Arts explores various occupations such as working in carpentry, and can also involve you in the field of graphing, and other more technical jobs. Also taught in the Arts departments are the creative arts These include: Drawing, Painting, Ceramics, Cartooning and Commercial Arts. These classes aid the students in improving their art skills and expressing their creative thoughts

Social Studies

"The teachers are getting older, while the students remain the same," said Mr. Tuttle, Department Chairperson. It's amazing what changes we have seen in the department that deals with the study of the past with its problems and achievements. Back in 1971 Social Studies moved from the 100 building to temporary trailers then numbered T1, T2, T3, etc. Three years later they became B1, B2, B3, and were called Bungalos. A reduction in electives is a change the whole school felt as these were important to the curriculum. The advanced placement program made its debut at our school in this department and allowed students to complete a test at the end of the course for college credit. Mr. Tuttle also stated the need for more female teachers in his department. "We need more women to balance the male chauvinist element in the department."

Special Programs

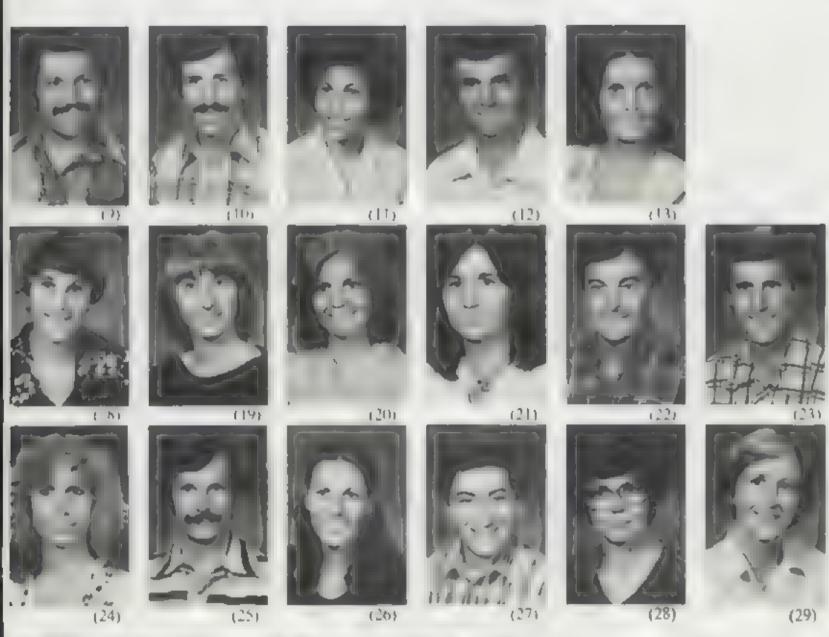

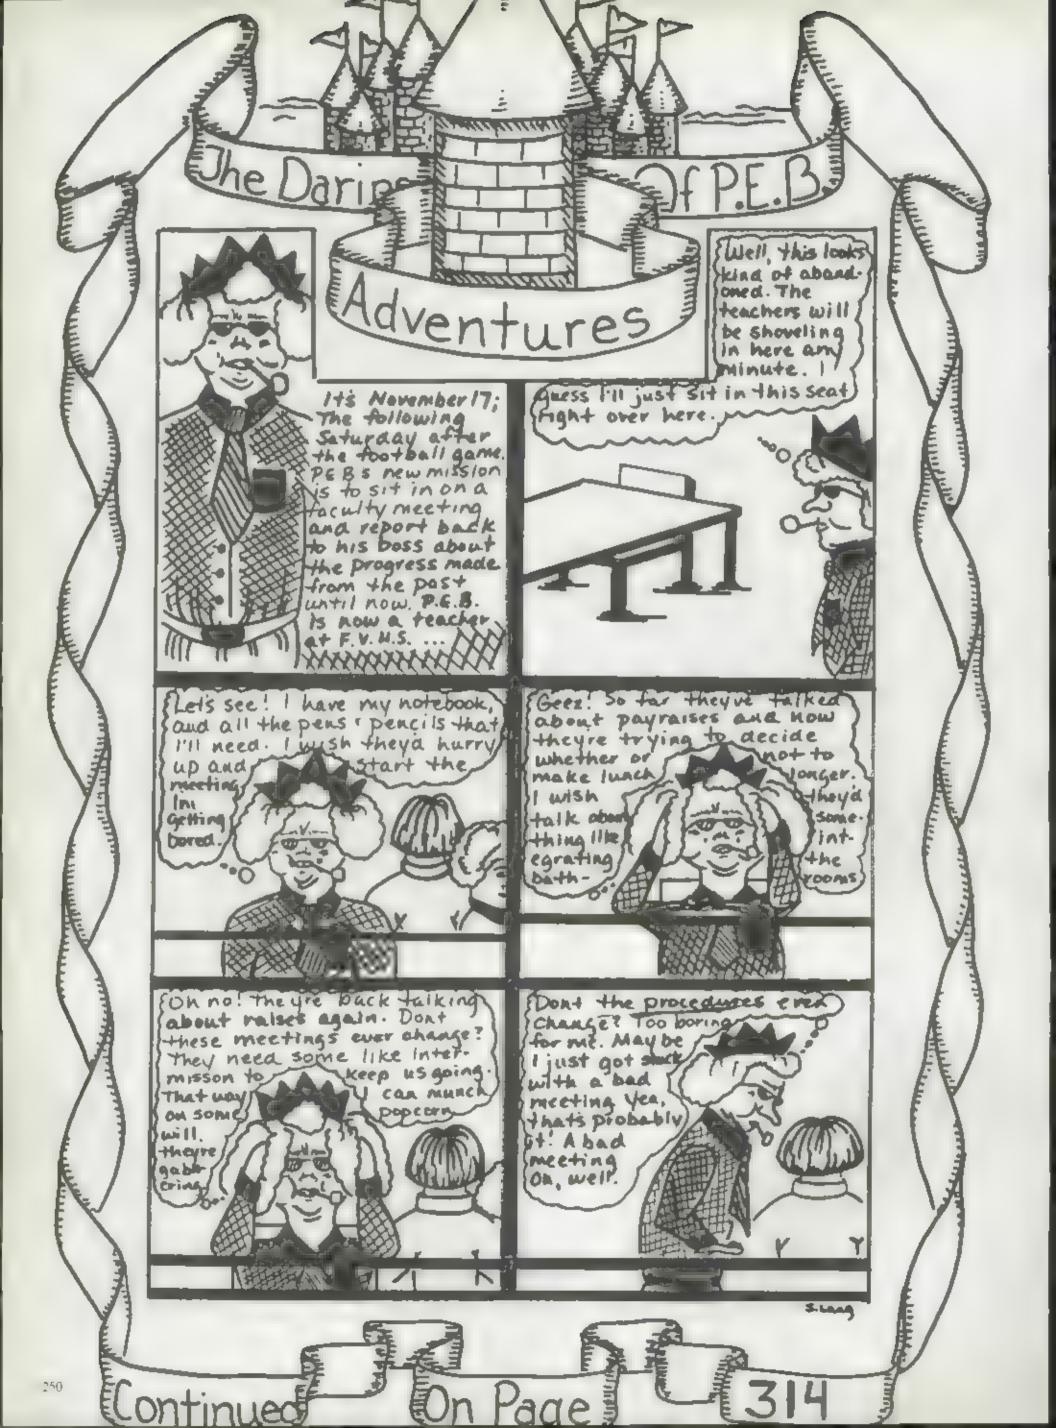

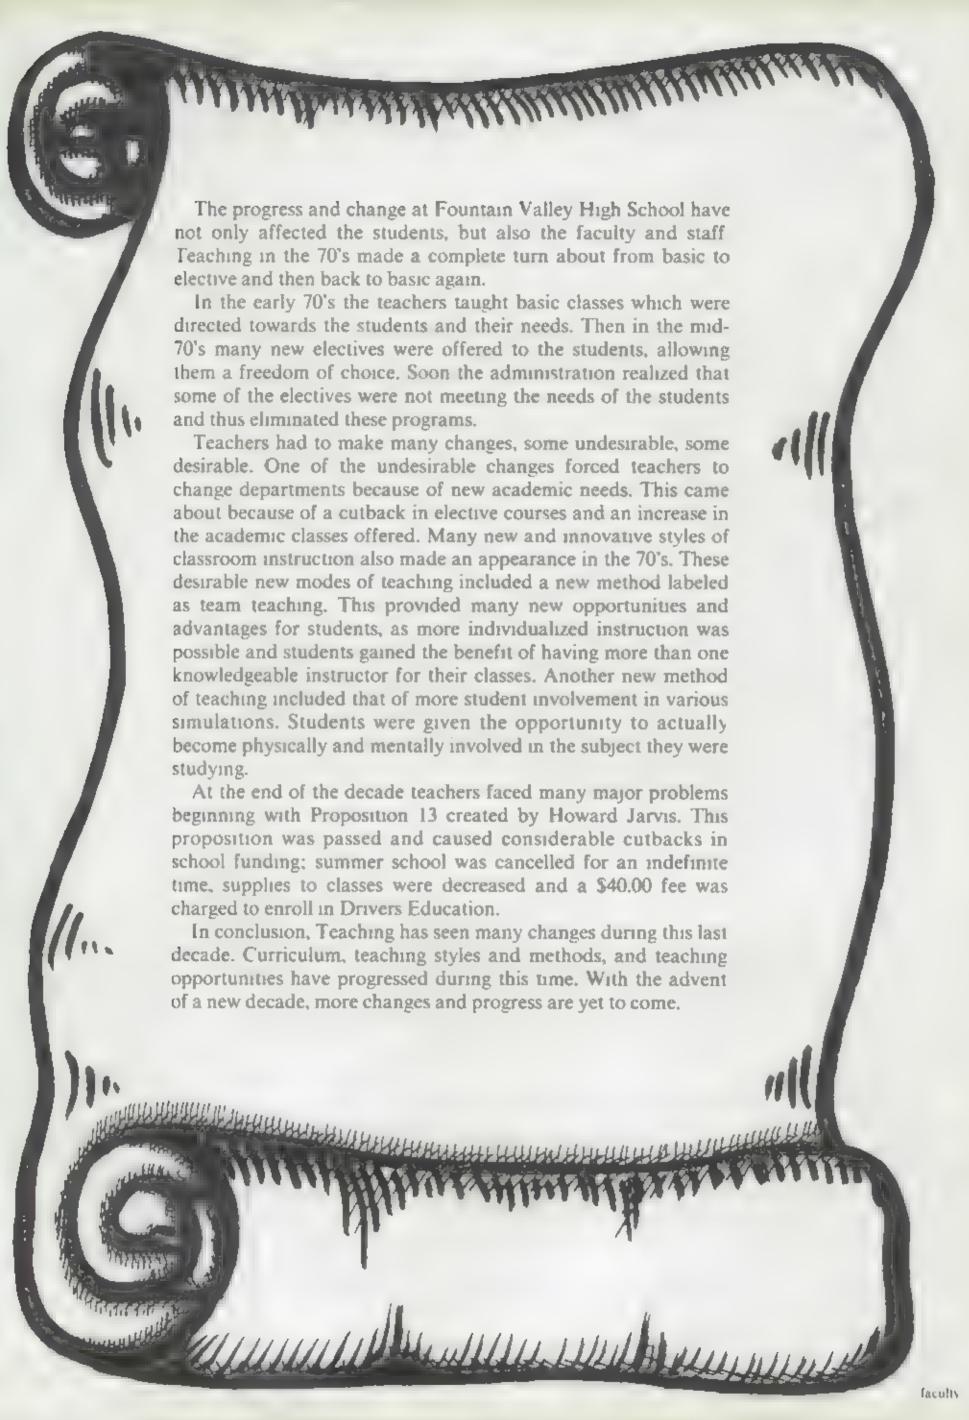

FVHS provides many opportunities to students. Well developed into the curriculum are programs specialized to help the handicapped as well as the mentally gifted students seeking college preparatory courses. FV also offers an extensive program in the areas of Reading, Fine Arts, and Driver's Education, among others. All types of students' needs are met through these programs and their scope expands with each new year

Song Moves to a Spirited Beat

The 1979-1980 Songleaders were very spirited this year. Not only did they perform well at all the games, but they also took first place out of 65 schools for the spirit award. Three of the Songleaders, Pam Swagger, Jackie Carr, and Christi Sattherwaitte were asked to try out for the U.S.A. professional teachers of songleaders, which are asked from all over the United States. Band Marches On

The 1979-1980 Fountain Valley Marching Band did a tremendous job this year playing favorites such as the theme from "Superman," and "Tea For Iwo For Tubas." The band, under the direction of Frank Barns and assistant director John Ryther, performed at all home football games as well as entertained crowds at pep assemblies. They also sos excellent in all competitions in the Southern California area, and also marched in the Disneyland and other various parades.

Drill Team Kicks to New Heights

The 1979-1980 Drill Team had a successful and eventful year. Ms. Shields their new advisor, did an excellent job of guiding them with the help of Drill Team captains: Liz Kesslof, Julie Florini, Irene Mendoza, and Sherri Wilson. Besides the pep assembly and half time routines they performed, including the famous Can-Can, the Drill Team participated in the Disneyland Pirade and Miss Drill Team U.S.A. The Link is so won some first and second place awards for their performances.

Students Make Halftime Enjoyable

The 1979-1980 Fountain Valley Banner Squad did a fabulous job this year With new flags and new captains Joyce Chermak, Karen Fritch, and Nancy Wilson, the squad ended the year with a 37.5 average out of a possible 40 points. Performing along with Edison's Iall Flags, they did a routine to "Washington Behind Closed Doors," Colleen Cambell was once again our majorette this year. She entertained the audience with such stunts as twirling a fiery baton. Colleen won first place for marching in a parade. Deanna Smith and Chris Mascoe were our FVHS Baron Mascots. They provided a high spirited entertainment during many sporting activities. Our drum major this year was Grant Childress who also held up the school spirit

Orchestra Displays Talents at Concerts

The 1979-1980 Orchestra was under the direction of Mrs. Clower. The Fountain Valley High School Orchestra played at the Winter and Spring Concerts and many others. The Orchestra, as usual, has been a big asset to our Music Department. We owe these musicians a big thanks for the fine music they have produced.

Musical Groups Get It All Together

The Fountain Valley's Concert Choir consisted of approximately sixty members who sang a variety of music Under the conduction of Mr. Tom Antal and the student director, Rosie Dunnigan, the choir sang at Chapman College, district festivals, and Knott's Berry Farm. Fountain Valley's stageband played at festivals and summer and winter concerts. Both of these groups produced some lovely music

Les Chanteurs consisted of 30 girls who have worked hard and achieved a great deal this year. They sang at luncheons, district festivals, and Knott's Berry Farm. Troubadors, taken from the Concert Choir, was made up of 24 members with student teachers helping out. This year they had a choreographer, Roy Diaz, who helped tremendously and made the Iroubadors a big success. Both groups sang beautifully with Mrs. Frietag playing the piano and Mr. Antal as the

Administration Plans an Eventful Year

Student Administration has worked hard toward improving Fountain Valley High School's campus and activities. As the working branch of student government, they are subdivided into four main sections: student campus concerns, activities, audio communication, and visual communication. Under the direction of the Associated Student's Manager, Beth Lunetta, the 1979-1980 Student Administration should be commended on the fine job they have done.

Student Council Governs School Well

This year the Student Council worked hard toward many various goals. Among these goals was the effort to get the snack-time back. They also beautified our campus by promoting the "What's Your Excuse?" campaign, which included buttons, posters, and many humorous commercials over the morning announcements. The Student Council also took the responsibility of handling the school budget. One of their more enterprising activities was hosting a talent show in the spring. The Student Council also programmed many exciting school activities such as scheduling bands in the bowl to entertain students during lunchtime

Student Senate Carries Out Orders

The main purpose of the Student Senate was to improve communication between Student Government and the Student Body. Besides exploring the Student Government's decisions and reporting them back to the classes, they also asked students for suggestions on how to improve our campus. The report then went back to the Student Government. This year, along with the Student Government, the Senate participated in "Spirit Week" and the "What's Your Excuse?" pick-up-your-trash campaign. Also, once a month, the Student Senate held a forum, an open meeting where anyone could attend and voice their oppions. All in all, the Student Senate accomplished many of their goals this year

Commissions Work Actively

The Senior Commission accomplished a lot this year. With their President Susan Sandstrom and Vice President Rosie Dunnigan, the Senior Commission was responsible for planning the Sadie Hawkins dance, which was a hig success. They also took part in planning for the class of '80's graduation, by designing the senior announcements and helping with the Baccalaureate and graduation ceremonies. In addition, they also helped run the Senfor Honors presentation. Also actively involved in the preparation of school activities was the Junior Commission Their president was J. J. Helfrich and their vice-president was Carol Kim The Junior Commission worked at the concession stands during football games. Their big event was the carnation sale for the Valentine's dance which went over well. In addition, they also held an ice cream social. Both commissions were under the direction of John Boyberg and Bill Lacy, who have done an excellent job advising

Commissions Actively Raise Money for Classes

The 1979-1980 Freshman Commission was kept very busy this year. They had planned and put on many sock hops and activities. With Miss Zembik advising, the Freshman Commission has had a very successful year. Sophomore Commission also had a very busy year. They sold many items such as Mr Bill buttons, See's suckers, and "Disco Sucks" stickers. They participated in the jogathon and earned a lot of money. With the help of their advisor Mr. Knight, the Sophomore Commission has had a very productive year

Commissions Plan Big Events of the Year

The Prom Commission had a very busy year. The entire senior prom was planned by this commission. They had many important decisions to make on behalf of the whole senior class. They selected the site. The Disneyland Hotel, and the theme, "The Times of Your Life." This busy commission planned all the decorations, the bids They selected the band, the florist, the menu and the activities of the evening FVIIS is a very difficult school to plan for as they hold the largest prom in California with over 900 people in attendance. The 1979-1980 Prom Commission should be commended on the fine job they did in providing such a successful event. This year's Homecoming Commission did a great job in planning the events of the Homecoming Dance. They worked hard for many hours in selecting a theme, "Reminiscing," decorating, and making bids. The Homecoming Dance was held at the Mission Viejo Country Club and, like the Prom, turned out to be a big success

Latin and Bluestones Become Culturally Aware

The Bluestones Club was new on campus this year. Advised by Mr. Long Lee, they had a very interesting year. These Vietnamese students met twice a month and discussed intellectual topies. Their biggest fund raising activity was a car wash in which they made over 150 dollars. Among their service projects were cleaning the school campus and participating in the Jogathon They also had fun planning and attending a beach and Christmas party. The Latin Club this year did an excellent job With no money left in their budget.

the Latin Club, with the help of their president, Steve Miller, and their advisor, Mr. Beirne, raised money and contributed much to our school. This club should be proud of the fine job they have done.

Girl's League Ends A Commendable Year

The Girl's League had another outstanding year. They began their year by holding their annual orientation and membership drive. Needless to say it was a big success, judging by the large number of members. As always, the Girls League contributed to many school and community services. One of their new services this year was a seminar hosted by the Girls League on the prevention of rape. They also had many fund-raising activities this year The sales of the See's Suckers and the Santagrams went over big again as in past years. Other Girl's League activities included the annual Holiday Dinner, the very nice Mothers Day Luncheon, and their biggest event of the year, the always successful Valentine's Dance.

Keywanettes Have an Energetic Year

The Keywannettes had another productive year. Constantly busy, they participated in all their seasonal activities with enthusiasm. They displayed their spirit early in the year by selling Homecoming mums. In the Spring months they sold colorful Valentines and Easter suckers. Sponsored by the Fountain Valley Kiwanis, this group of young ladies was very service oriented Serving their school and community, the Keywannettes kept occupied all year by aiding at various sports banquets, assisting the Red Cross, and helping out on their most important project, the March of Dimes.

Key Club Opens New Doors

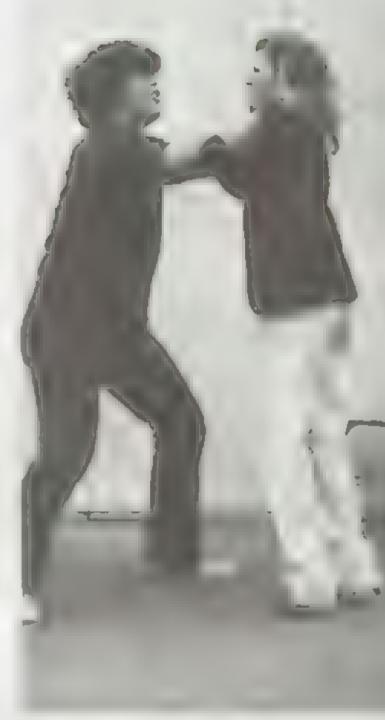

Key Club had an achieving and helpful year. Under the advisement of Mr. Byrd. the Key Club performed a number of services for the school. During Football games, club members worked at the concession stands selling refreshments to the hungry crowds. They also participated in a desk cleanup campaign in which they maintained clean desks in the classrooms. At Christmas, they held a successful canned foods drive, in which the canned foods were sent to a local church and given to the needy. They also offered their services in helping out with the Coronet Awards. In addition, the Key Club continued their services outside of school. Some of these activities included working at the Haunted House at the Orange County Fair Grounds for Halloween and helping out the American Heart Association and the American Cancer Society by holding a bikeathon. Many people prospered from the services of this club.

Drama and Thespians Expand Creative Talents

Drama Club was busy this year, working at the Dinner Theater by ushering. waiting on tables, and putting on variety shows that included magic, dramatic scenes from popular plays, and many humorous skits. In addition to this, the Drama club met on Thursdays to discuss ideas for fund raising activities, like selling mistletoe during Christmas. Drama Club also aided the successful productions of "As You Like It," and "Pippin." Thespians were involved in a lot of tours to the drama departments of colleges such as UCLA and UCI. They also sponsored the competition of the Scenes Festival Both of these clubs were under the direction of Mrs. Cooney

The Mecha Club was busy this year with many activities. The members had fund raisers such as a candy sale and a car wash. They also had a beach party and helped all the students in the bilingual department. With Ms. Felix as the advisor, all the students at FVHS should be proud to have this club on campus. With the help of Mrs. Barkowi, the advisor, and President Jeff Johnson, the Indian Club had an educational year. Included in their club activities was a basket-weaving project and a fried bread sale during lunch.

The club members studied the Is dian cultures and learned a lot about their heritages. Both clubs have been a big help to many people on campus

French and German Clubs Study Foreign Lands

The German Club had many activities and projects throughout the year. They sponsored a roller skating night and candy sale. The advisor, Mr. Reinhard, also set up special projects such as a field trip to Alpine Village and writing to German pen pals. Under the advisement of Mrs. Morris and the president, Clare Waterson, the French Club participated in numerous activities including a crepe and candy sale Club members studied the French culture and even held French parties. Both of these clubs gained new knowledge in studying the language of foreign lands.

Surf and Speech Club Use Brain and Brawn

The Surf Club had a very active year At their meetings the club members discussed the surf meets and ways to improve them. The advisor, Mr. Williams, also had guest speakers come in and talk about surfing. Most of the members of the surf club also are members of the NSSA - National Scholastic Surfing Association. Under the advisement of Mr. Caforio, the speech club members learned their skills in Mr. Caforio's first period class. The students competed at various contests with students from different schools. receiving medals and ribbons for their winning speeches. Ski and Aquatics Clubs Keep Active

Ski and Aquatics Clubs had very successful fund raising activities. The Ski-Club had several bake sales and a super candy cane sale at Christmas. The money raised aided them in attending two big ski adventures, a week long Christmas trip to Tahoe, and a Spring week-end trip to Mammoth. Both times skiers were rewarded with excellent snow conditions and uncrowded slopes. The Aquatics Club supported all water events on and off campus They had numerous paper drives and other money making projects. The swimmers were involved in the annual Tread-a-thon and helped coach younger kids. They had fun all year participating in all aquatics events including swimming, surfing, skin diving, water polo, and their popular beach parties.

Clubs Enjoy Popular Sports

The Racquetball club had an active year considering they are still a very new club. Fast becoming one of the more popular clubs, the number of members increased noticeably. The students met at Racquetball World every Friday and played weekly at Racquetball World. They improved their skills and knowledge of the game by competing against one another each week. The Bowling Club has been around almost as long as the school has. Its popularity has remained through the years with its size always increasing. This year the bowling club met weekly at FV Bowl. They competed against each other improving their bowling skills and filling their year with pleasurable hours of bowling.

Clubs Show and Tell

The FV Creative Services administration was a small but versatile group of students committed to the technical aspects of school related events. Sometimes ill-equipped, but always ready to help on any school production, some of the many services included video taping of sporting events, the lights and sound on dance concerts. Coronel Awards, plays, and musicals. This year FVCSA was also in charge of the Media Fair and many of the club members were entered in a variety of categories. The Spanish Club was back again. Among their activities were a Christmas party in December, and a candy sale to raise money for their trip to Olvera Street. All in all, they had a very fun year, improving their skills and throwing unforgettable parties

Chain Crew, Baronettes Keep Accurate Records

This year's chain crew did an excellent and accurate job in measuring the yardage gained and lost in the football games. With the help of their captains, Deidre Kuhlendahl, Jeri Kraft, and Jaymee Zillgitt, the chain crew also switched footballs during the Varsity games. The 1979-1980 Baronettes also did a great job in keeping stats for our basketball teams. The statistics were well done and accurate. Thanks to these two clubs, the Barons have done an excellent job in football and basketball. Fountain Valley owes these girls a big thanks for their hard work and help

LeMot Gets the Scoop

Led by Editor-in-Chief, Donna Samluk, this year's LeMot staff has been very busy producing the newspaper. With an inexperienced, but enthusiastic staff, the reporters covered current school-related topics and contemporary teenage issues. This year's goal for the staff was to improve with each issue. Page Editors Cheryl Vandemore. Mike Voaldini, Darryl Sereno and Darrell D'Arnall had the additional task of learning how to design a newspaper while writing articles of current interest. The changes in the staff this year included the combining of Journalism 1 with Newspaper, which took some getting use to, for both classes. The staff attended various seminars and workshops that were specifically helpful in Journalism writing and in improving their skills. Donna Samluk commented on this year's staff, "We've really come a long way!"

Clubs Prove That Hand Is Quicker Than Mind

Lyceum, still a new and growing club, had a very satisfying year. They met often and discussed world topics energy, and other intellectual topics. Some of their activities included helping with the Renaissance Fair and attending field trips in cultural events. The Magic club had an interesting year also. In addition to their regularly scheduled magic shows, the Baron Wizards were involved in a number of new magic club projects. Among these were a progressive minic course taught by Mr. Mittleman, and the production of the special effects used in the Spring

Hairstyles Make a Combback

Hairstyles play a major part on the outlook of your beauty and appearance. They help to enhance your features by exposing your good points and hiding your bad ones. Over the last ten years, hairstyles have changed drastically. During the time that our older brothers and sisters went to school, the boys had medium length hair above the ears, while the girls had long, straight hair parted in the middle. Moving along the decade around 1973, the guys started to be more daring and let their hair grow longer reclining below the collar. The girls with long hair began using the electric curlers, curling irons barrettes, and wearing bangs. During our country's Bicentennial; 1976, the guys styled their hair which looked more classy. Meanwhile, the girls. wanting to copy their famous idol, cut their hair and styled it, to look like Farrah Fawcet. At the start of this new decade, we've gotten more dramatic with different styles of both guys and girls getting perms. With this year's latest fad of punk rock, some have cropped and even dyed their hair. So, during a ten year period, we've seen styles go from short to long, long to short, straight to curled, and curled to frizzed What's nextⁿⁿ

Part-Time Jobs Keep Seniors Busy

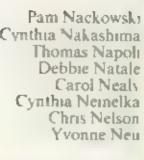

Remember when your only source of income would be to babysit on Friday nights and weekends, teach guitar to your friends, and mow the lawn or do gardening for your neighbors? Back then, you were less concerned with the type of job you had But times have changed. Nowadays, students have a wide variety of part-time jobs to choose from. They are more academic and use their skills in such occupations as typists and file clerks, or in areas such as sales persons, hostesses and waitresses. These type of jobs seem to be more rewarding and challenging than those of ten years ago. Also, students are more competitive for high paying jobs. Some of these are working in construction, and as box boys which use your physical strength and ability. Then, of course, the usual easy jobs can be found that both back then and now students commonly hold, like working in fast foods, gas stations, and movie theaters. Although students seem to be making more money then in the last decade, since minimum wage has almost doubled, the cost of living has made the value of earnings diminish. It all evens out in the end len years ago the typical Fountain Valley High School graduate was determined to find a nitch in society This individual, being fresh out of high school, suddenly learned that he must start making decisions for himself if he was to fit into society. It was confusing at first, as he was torn between getting a good education in college or taking a full-time job. Many would like to have gone straight to work but all feared being drafted into the Viet Nam War Most, however, went to college on the deference plan, written by the government, which stated that those who went to college for a degree would be free from the draft. Many stayed in college until the war ended in 1973 but others dropped out for various reasons, the most common being marriage

Today's typical Fountain Valley High School graduate has much more available to him than the graduate of ten years ago. College opportunities and career goals are practically endless Without a draft to worry about, today's graduates can spend time to plan their futures. Due to the high number of quality colleges within a 30 minute drive from Fountain Valley, students can cut down on cost of living at home Competition being as stiff as it is today, graduates are aware of the necessity of a college education in order to succeed in today's society. Hence, more grads are attending college and going into professions as a result. Perhaps the next decade will show some of the results of

The reasonable man adapts himself to the world: the unreasonable one persists in trying to adapt the world to himself. Therefore all progress depends on the unreasonable man.

George Bernard Shaw
